DEMOCRATS PLAN MILITANT CAMPAIGN

STATES WON'T BE CONCEDED TO OPPONENTS

HOOVER WORKING ON HIS SPEECH OF ACCEPTANCE

BY ROBERT ST. JOHN
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

New York, July 23 (AP)—Democracy will concentrate many of its big guns this fall on certain "hopelessly Republican" states in an attempt to wrest them from the Hoover-Curtis forces.

Frequently in Democratic campaigns of the past, the electoral votes of such states have been conceded to the enemy, and all the campaign fire has been directed toward states which held more promise of victory.

But James A. Farley, national chairman, made it clear today that such strategy will not be followed this time.

States like Pennsylvania, Ohio, Vermont, Michigan and New Hampshire, which rarely go Democratic, will receive just as much attention as any others, he said.

Farley will go to Washington Monday night to consult with Capitol Hill Democratic leaders over the detailed campaign plans he has drawn up.

Upon his return, he will send invitations to organization leaders in every state in the country to come to New York as soon as headquarters are formally opened on August 1 to go over these plans.

This gathering will bring together the 45 or more "key men" upon whose shoulders Farley has placed the full responsibility for running the ballot-drive in their individual sections.

At the conference he will turn over to them many of the routine jobs that have been handled in previous campaigns by regional headquarters, of which there will be none this year.

WRITING SPEECH

Washington, July 23 (AP)—Amidst uncertainties as to how far they will go, Herbert Hoover has accumulated a variety of suggestions on how to handle the prohibition question and Franklin D. Roosevelt goes ahead gathering advice on economics.

What will come from it all probably won't be known until the presidential campaign picks up speed next month; but in each case the decision may have a crucial bearing in the weeks from then until the November elections.

That is why the prohibition section of the president's speech accepting renomination here August 11 is being awaited so widely; and why the New York governor's conferences with prominent financially-minded Democrats are causing speculation.

Apparently Mr. Hoover is keeping his prohibition intentions strictly to himself, while giving ear to proposals for and against making an open bid for support of the dry organizations.

There has been no indication that he intends either to repudiate that plank or to defend the status quo. The platform took the position that "the progress which has been made thus far made must be preserved, while the evils must be eliminated."

Having already had his prohibition say, in which he embraced the platform favoring repeal and Volstead law modification, Governor Roosevelt has directed his attention to cementing the party ranks in the east and conference which gave him the chance to combat any fear of him in financial circles.

This week he selected New Jersey—a hotbed of opposition to him for the nomination—as the place for his next speech. At Sea Girt August 27, he and his convention

PRUSSIA TAKES CASE TO COURT

Reichstag Elections to Be Held July 31 Von Papen Says

Berlin, July 23. (AP)—While counsel for the state of Prussia was arguing before the supreme court at Leipsic today that federal dictatorship over his government was illegal, Chancellor Franz von Papen assured representatives of the south German states gathered at Stuttgart that the dictatorship would not interfere with the important Reichstag election sto be held July 31.

The court action at Leipsic, aimed at stopping the federal government's mailed fist in the state of Prussia, will not reach a decision until Monday.

The Prussian argument was that there was no constitutional authority for federal interference in the state's affairs and even if there were the state's cabinet was removed without any opportunity for the members to answer whatever charges the central government had against them.

Join in Protest

Several southern states joined in the Prussian protest to the court. The attitude of this section of Germany was further shown at the Stuttgart conference which grew out of the fears of the other states that dictatorship might be extended to them.

An official communique issued after the Stuttgart meeting said the southern representatives had received with satisfaction assurances from Chancellor von Papen that the Reich government did not intend to infringe on their rights.

The appointment of a federal commissioner to administer Prussia, the chancellor said, was only a temporary measure and there never had been any plan to extend it to other states that were peaceable.

Indications tonight were that from now until election day there will be little peace and quiet in Germany. As the campaign drew toward its final week all parties were determined to fight to the last ditch, and the events in Prussia have added fuel to the flames of hatred throughout the nation.

What effect Chancellor von Papen's seizure of Prussia will have on the voting is a difficult matter to estimate. Those who believe in a strong hand insist that the electorate will approve ruthless action by the government. Those who believe in democratic parliamentarianism hope the voters will rally to the parties of the left in protest.

BORAH FAVORS CONCLAVE FOR DEBT REVISION

SUGGESTS MEETING TO SETTLE POST WAR PROBLEMS

Washington, July 23 (AP)—Senator Borah of Idaho proposed tonight an immediate world conference to consider revision or cancellation of war debts integrally with a program for settling other post war problems.

Borah, chairman ofthe powerful senate foreign relations committee, delivered his message by radio, proposing the world conference as a follow up to the Lausanne reparations agreement, which he said was more of a "harbinger of peace and the hope of humanity" than the Versailles peace treaty.

Borah painted the Lausanne agreement as "the most important step taken since the war looking to the restoration of confidence in political and business affairs."

He added that if the policies initiated at Lausanne were carried forward "there will come a time when it will be distinctly to the interest of he people of the United States" to again consider the question of war debts.

Says Debts Are Just

Borah warned, however, that revision of the debts should not be predicated on the reperations agreement alone.

He said the debts were just debts and the only reason for urging a reduction or cancellation of them would be "in the interest of the people of the United States."

"I entertain the belief," he said "that the cancellation of the debts in connection with, and as a part of, a program, including the settlement of other war problems, would have the effect above indicated."

Borah proposed that the world conference should have authority to deal with reparations and debts, disarmament, re-establishment of the gold standard, the stabilization of silver in the Orient and possibly other questions.

But he also said he Versailles treaty "must yield to the dictates of conscience and the demands of justice."

SPEECH EXCERPTS

Washington, July 23 (AP)—Here are highlights from Senator Borah's address tonight on debts, and other war problems:

"Lausanne, even more than Versailles, is the harbinger of peace and the hope of humanity."

"The test and the response to Lausanne is Geneva. A disarmament conference is in every sense an economic conference."

"The debts due the taxpayers of the United States for money loan to foreign governments are just debts."

"There can be no reason for urging a reduction or cancellation of these debts other than that it would be in the interest of the people of the United States to do so."

"This is a man made depression. Nature has not failed us."

"Thousands of hungry veterans are surging in anger and despair against the bolted doors of the capitols from Washington to Berlin."

"To put an end to this depression is no less a task han that of ending the war."

"Cancellation of the debts in connection with, and as a par of, a program, including the setlement of othe r war problems" would benefit America.

Married Farmers Tell Police Of Midnight Party

Rochester, Minn., July 23. (AP)—A midnight bathing party preceded by alcoholic drinks, and ended with the deaths of two young women, was described to officers today by two young married men, both fathers.

Arrest of the men, their admissions and reports of chemists that vital organs of two young women found dead in the Zumbro river a few days ago contained only traces of alcohol and no poison apparently, officers said, had eliminated a mystery. The men said their companions died accidentally.

Held without charge in the county jail at Wabasha, were Reuben Kruger, 25, oil station employe, and Jesse Salley, 30, garage mechanic, both of Plainview. One has three children, the other two.

The victims were Louise Prigge, farm girl, and Francis Polikowski, Rochester waitress, both in their early twenties.

Flo Ziegfeld, Glorifier of American Girl, Dies

Hollywood, Cal., July 23 (AP)—The genius of the Ziegfeld Follies has passed leaving the theatrical world in mourning from Broadway to the movie lots of California.

Florenz Ziegfeld, glorifier of the American girl, died unexpectedly at a hospital here last night.

Since the day in 1907 when the Follies were first born out of the imagination of his mind, the great New York producer lived in a period of the theater which he made epochal by light drama such as none other ever before had conceived. And so he died.

He lay in a bed at the Cedars and Lebanon hospital, not far from the film plants of Hollywood, where many of his proteges—Will Rogers, Eddie Cantor, Marilyn Miller, Marie Dressler, Marion Davies, Lilyan Tashman, Ina Claire, Mae Murray—had come to continue the fame with which he firt endowed them.

Knew Death Was Near

It was a few minutes after ten o'clock, sudden pains attacked his abdomen. A nurse summoned one of his attending physicians, Dr. Marcus Rabwin. The doctor knew and Ziegfeld knew. There was a hurried telephone call to a studio, where his wife, Billie Burke, whom he made a star and whom he married 18 years ago, was making a motion picture.

An automobile sped wildly through the streets of Hollywood. The pains increased.

"He knew that death was coming," Dr. Rawbin said.

There were two sudden gasps from the figure on the bed and life was gone. Down the hospital corridor came the sound of running feet. Through the door plunged Miss Burke, ashen-faced. It was 10:33 p. m. and she came two minutes late.

Tomorrow private funeral services will be held. One of the producer's dearest friends, a man he helped to the high road of fame, Will Rogers, arrived at the hospital during the night and took Miss Burke, prostrated with grief, and the daughter of the couple, Patricia, 15, to the Rogers home at Santa Monica.

Rogers announced today that sometime tomorrow Catholic rites probably will be spoken and the body placed in a vault to await burial in the east at a later date when Miss Burke has completed her film work at R-K-O studios. The grief stricken widow, fearing a curious crowd asked that the services be kept secret.

Other relatives unable to attend are a brother, William, and a sister, Mrs. William Buehl, both of Detroit, and his mother, Mrs. Florenz Ziegfeld, Sr., who is so ill in her Chicago home that she has not been informed of her son's death.

Ziegfeld came to Hollywood about a week ago after resting in a New Mexico sanitarium. He was suffering from pleurisy and a general nervous condition. He improved daily and although his physicians, Dr. Rabwin and Dr. E. C. Fishbaugh, reported he was still in danger, they held hope for a recovery.

He spent the afternoon yesterday listening to his daughter read scores of business telegrams and answering them. At 6:30 p. m., Patricia and Miss Burke dined with him and he seemed comfortable, even cheerful about his health.

TRAIN HITS CAR, CHILD IS KILLED

Two Other Children and Mother Critically Hurt in Crash

Ithaca, Mich., July 23 (AP)—Margaret, 9-year-old daughter of Dr. E. W. Brandes of Washington, affiliated with the department of agriculture, was killed almost instantly today when the motor car driven by her mother was struck by an Ann Arbor passenger train three miles south of here.

The mother, Mrs. Grace V. Brandes, 41, formerly Miss Grace V. Newbold of Flint, Mich., was injured so critically her recovery was doubtful.

Three other Brandes children were injured, two of the critically.

Mrs. Brandes was driving the car from Washington to her summer home at Burt Lake, near Cheboygan, at the time of the accident.

The children injured are Anne, 11, injured critically; William, 5, seriously, and Elizabeth, 15, less severely.

Mrs. Brandes and Anne and William were taken to an Alma hospital, while Elizabeth required only first aid treatment.

Sheriff J. B. Helmann, who investigated the accident, said he was unable to explain why Mrs. Brandes failed to see the approaching train. He said there were no obstructions to visibility of the track for some distance and the day was clear.

Dr. Brandes, widely known for his scientific expeditions to Central and South America, Asia and the Philippine Islands, was reported enroute to Alma by airplane after being notified of the tragedy.

Federal Government Faces Enormous Tasks

Washington, July 23 (AP)—Exploring pathways of economy and launching huge new enterprises is keeping the federal government high-keyed as never before at the end of a session of congress.

The task of spreading federal relief for destitution and creating new employment is getting under way, and probably will be in actual operation before the next week is out. Plans are being fashioned to launch a system that will relieve pressure on that oft-disregarded ordinary American—the homeowner.

But the biggest job of all for government workers from the cabinet to the rank and file, is shaking down to a regime of bone deep scrimping and saving. Many are finding that it can be done without loss of efficiency.

Two Appointments

Congress adjourned just one week ago today. The national economy bill was already legally in effect but its application, hampered by countless technicalities, is proceeding slowly. The $2,122,000,000 relief bill and the $125,000,000 home loan bank bill were left on President Hoover's desk and have since been signed.

The president still has to appoint men to handle these tremendous tasks but many branches of the government have been drawn into consultation to map out their execution, and little loss of time is in sight.

Into this already busy week was injected signing of the St. Lawrence waterway treaty with Canada, charter for a giant enterprise of still unmeasured significance in its eventual opening of the midwest

BRUCKER FILES PETITIONS FOR RENOMINATION

GOVERNOR SAYS HE SUPPORTS G. O. P. PLATFORM

Lansing, Mich., July 23 (AP)—With the ringing declaration of his campaign chairman that the "campaign is now on," Governor Wilber M. Brucker today submitted petitions qualifying him as a candidate for renomination as governor on the Republican ticket, and declared he stood "four-square on the Republican state platform, and every plank in it."

Before a good-sized crowd of friends and political associates, the governor witnessed the presentation of petitions bearing, his managers said, more than 200,000 names, and spoke firmly of his plans for the coming battle. He promised to throw himself actively into the campaign, and spoke of the economic issues involved.

Other than his reference to standing by the platform, Governor Brucker made no reference to the prohibition question. The state and national platform advocated national submission of the prohbition issue, as compared with the state Democratic stand in favor of a flat repeal of the eighteenth amendment.

Plans for Campaign

He announced that Edward T. Fitzgera'd, member of the state public utilities commission, will manage his campaign in Wayne county, that Jack Leasia, secretary to the governor, will handle the remainder of the state, and that John S. Haggerty, former secretary of state, will become vice president of the Brucker-for-Governor committee. Seth Q. Pulver, of Owosso, is chairman, and he declared in a short address that the filing of the petitions was the signal for the opening of the Brucker campaign. Pulver said that with late additions the number of signatures on Brucker petitions will approximate 219,000. About 5,000 are required to qualify.

The petitions were presented to Governor Brucker by Pulver, and the governor in turn handed the petitions to Frank D. Fitzgerald, secretary of state. Following the presentation ceremony, an informal luncheon was held.

With the filing of the governor's petitions, four candidates for the Republican nomination are officially in the fie'd. Petitions were filed Friday for William H. McKeighan, Flint, and Orla A. Bailey, Shiawassee county farmer. Ed A. Nowack, Lansing publisher, previously had filed petitions bearing more than 20,000 names, but lacking the required 100 signatures from each of 20 counties. He said he would make a supplemental filing.

In the offing are at least two other potential candidates — George W. Welsh, city manager of Grand Rapids, and James C. Quinlan, former state senator, also of Grand Rapids.

There are three prospective Democratic candidates, none of whom has filed petitions. They are William A. Comstock and Patrick H. O'Brien, of Detroit, and Claude S. Carney, of Kalamazoo. The final filing date is Tuesday, July 26.

Candidates for representatives in congress who fined petitions today included:

Grant M. Hudson, Lansing, Republican, sixth district; Louis C. Cramton, Lapeer, Republican, seventh district; Frank W. James Hancock, Republican, 12th district; Van V. Philp, Bad Axe Democrat, seventh; Earl C. Michener, Adrian, Republican, second; George A. Dondero, Royal Oak Republican, Seventeenth; Floyd E. Schoss, Detroit, Democrat, seventeenth; Charles E. Downing, Monroe county, Democrat, second; Rep. Michael J. Hart, Saginaw, Democrat, eighth; Daniel J. O'Connor, Jackson, Republican, second.

Filipinos Are Told to Leave Their Colony

West Palm Beach, Fla., July 23 (AP)—Ordered out of the Everglades by 200 irate white residents after an episode that involved a Filipino and a white girl, 30 members of a Filipino colony near Canal Point evacuated today.

Chief of Police F. R. Harrison of Pahokee said their going averted the possibility of serious racial troubles. Of the 15 remaining members of the colony, Harrison said, all except six were prepared to leave tonight.

White residents, he said, had permitted the six to remain until crops they had planted are harvested, after which these also have agreed to leave. He understood the ousted farmers were going to Cuba.

Harrison said resentment of long standing against presence of the Filipino farmers has been fanned to fever heat recently by reports that 2,000 more Filipinos were coming in from California and by the episode involving the white girl.

Affairs reached a climax last night when 200 white residents of the Canal Point-Pahokee district went to the little Filipino colony and emphatically ordered its inhabitants to be gone by next Monday night.

Harrison said the Filipinos made their first appearance in the rich truck country along Lake Okeechobee more than a year ago when a small group of them leased about 2,000 acres of land from a white resident of Pahokee who had tried ineffectually to lease it to whites.

BONUS SEEKERS ON WAY HOME

Only Small Portion of Army Vets Remain At Capital

BY ROBERT S. PICKENS

Washington, July 23 (AP)—On the cushions, on the rods, and on the broad highways, members of the bonus army today were heading home, leaving only a fraction of their original strength in the nation's capital.

Frank T. Hines, administrator of veterans affairs, said today that only about 3,500 of the city's unexpected and indigent guests remained for officials to worry about, and kind hearted Washingtonians to feed.

Hines expressed the opinion that at no time had there been more than 8,000 of the bonus seeking veterans here but police by actual count on parade days set the number at 11,700. Leaders of the army claimed a total of 22,000 at the peak.

Most of the departing guests went in "the plush," presenting railroad tickets furnished by the veterans administration. Others scorned to become "softies" and went out the way they came, on top of and underneath box cars.

A third large group rode away in the automobiles they came in, motors propelled by gasoline furnished by the government and charged against the bonus certificates of the car owners.

The deadline for applications for transportation loans is midnight Sunday night.

The treasury department served notice on those remaining that they would have to get off government property, where they have dug themselves in, by Monday at midnight—or else.

Service of official notice, it was said, would place the men in the position of trespassers if they didn't move and open the way for the use of legal force to clear the areas.

Colonel U. S. Grant, director of public parks and buildings, has asked the District of Columbia authorities to clear the men out of the parks and property under his jurisdiction. Orders previously issued for evacuating the men, it was said, had been illegal, as district police, under the law, can not be used to evict trespassers from federally owned and controlled property.

One of the first to leave today was Roy W. Robertson, of Los Angeles, crippled leader of the California contingent which staged a four day and four night march in front of the capital. He went in his own car driven by a negro member of his group.

Mayo Will Retire From Ford Service

Detroit, July 23 (AP)—William B. Mayo, engineer in charge of aviation activities of the Ford Motor company, announced today that he will retire from the company's service on September 1. He has been with the company for 20 years. Mr. Mayo said he will take a vacation and later give his attention to "certain engineering developments" which he has in mind.

EMPIRE TRADE PREFERENCES BEING SOUGHT

ENGLAND DOES NOT WISH TO RAISE TARIFF BARS

BY FRANK I. WELLER
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

Ottawa, July 23 (AP)—The insistence of Australia upon effective assistance from Great Britain in marketing Australian products threw into bold relief tonight the differences of opinion on the manner of granting empire preferences.

At the outset the British delegates declared themselves for the general principle of lowering tariff walls for empire nations, as opposed to raising such walls against foreign countries.

The demand voiced by Premier Stanley Bruce of Australia for preference on chilled beef in effect means that Great Britain would have to raise her tariff walls against foreign countries if she satisfied Australia on this point.

Oppose Increase

At present chilled beef enters Great Britain free of duty.

Mrs. Walter Runciman, wife of the president of the British board of trade, has stated in interviews here that the English people would not agree to any move for an empire trade union which would result in higher costs of living.

The import duties act permitted dominion products to enter the United kingdom free of duty until November to give the Ottawa conference a chance to negotiate for reciprocal preferences. This is the crux of Great Britain's bargaining point.

The unofficial observer for Argentina, Elejandro Bunge, was quick to express the opinion that British financial interests in Argentina would look with disfavor on any move to discriminate against Argentine beef, one of that country's leading exports to the British Isles.

For the first time during the conference the United States was brought directly into the proceedings by a South African statement. After reviewing the fruit industry's importance to the union of South Africa and citing its growth, a South African supplementary statement added:

"Competition, however, from foreign countries, such as the Unied States and some of the South American states, is becoming increasingly srong.

"Great Britain has granted 16 per cent preferences on fresh fruits, but it has already become patent that in the case of citrus this preference can not be effective.

"The position is such that the union is forced to ask for further consideration of its fruit exports and also in regard to its wines and tobacco."

The Irish Free State delegation today clarified its position in view of the present Anglo-Irish tariff war by declaring it will participate to the fullest extent possible, "having in mind the present conditions existing between the Free State and the United kingdom."

BOARD BLAMES CAMP OFFICERS

Prison Authorities Held Responsible for Death Of Young Convict

Raiford, Fla., July 23 (AP)—Vigorous prosecution of two Florida camp officials for the alleged "torture" murder of Arthur Maillefert, 19 year old New Jersey convict, was demanded tonight by the board of state institutions.

The demand was made following upon an exhaustive inquiry into prison conditions, during which approximately 80 convicts at the Sunbeam road camp near Jacksonville, where Maillefert died, were questioned by the board.

More than a score of convicts testified they had seen Maillefert and other prisoners brutally beaten or otherwise mistreated, while most of the others declared they themselves had not been cruelly handled and had seen no such treatment accorded others.

Authorities Indicted

Nathan Mayo, head of the board, said results of the investigation led them to insist the prison camp authorities be prosecuted to the limit.

Captain George Courson and Solomon Higginbotham, a guard, were indicted for first degree murder by the Duval county grand jury at Jacksonville following upon the death of Maillefert, who was found strangled in a "sweat box" with heavy stocks clamped on his feet and a chain fastened from his neck to a rafter. Courson and Higginbotham maintained Maillefert committed suicide.

A new development in the case was brought out through testimony given by Bob Blake, serving an 11 year sentence from Duval county for robbery.

Persuaded by board members to tell his story, Blake said that the "suicide story was a frame-up" and that he was the "go-between" for Courson and "helped frame the story for him."

"Maillefert met his death," Blake said, "because he was exhausted, fainted and fell forward in the sweat box and was strangled to death by the chain before help could reach him."

TO EXHUME BODY

New York, July 23 (AP)—Trial of 13 Nassau county policemen indicted on charges growing out of the third degree torture death of Hyman Stark was set today for Aug. 15.

The policemen, now free on bail, will be arraigned Monday on the first batch of indictments returned by the grand jury, which will resume the investigation on Tuesday.

Five of the defendants, it was learned, are charged with first degree manslaughter. Preliminary charges of second degree murder against four of them were discarded by the grand jury.

Of the others, seven are accused of second degree assault and one of being an accessory to first degree manslaughter.

Stark's body was ordered exhumed on Monday for a closer study, it was understood, of the marks left by the beating he suffered. An autopsy, performed before the body was buried, showed death was caused by a crushed larynx.

Tilden Wins First Match In Tourney

Chicago, July 23 (AP)—William T. Tilden dropped a set to Ellis Klingeman of Chicago, in his first engagement in defense of his professional tennis title today, but, as usual, speeded up enough to win.

Klingeman won the first set, 6-4, but Big Bill increased the pace and ran out, 6-4, 6-2, 6-0. Other favorites successfully negotiated today's tasks, with Albert Burke, the French champion, making the most impressive showing. Burke jumped on Allan Wylie of Winnetka, at the start and lost just two games. The scores were 6-1, 6-1, 6-0.

Phil Bagby of Kansas City eliminated Capt. Valerian Yavorsky of White Sulphur Springs, Va., 7-5, 7-5, 6-2, and Paul Heston of Washington, D. C., defeated Jack Castle of Buffalo, N. Y., 6-3, 6-2, 6-3. Emmet Pare of Chicago, seeded number three among the Americans, and Bruce Barnes, Austin, Texas, number five, drew first round byes.

Ziegfeld's Players Carry On With Show

New York, July 23 (AP)—Florenz Ziegfeld's name twinkled cheerily in the White Light belt tonight as the players in his revival of "Show Boat" carried on.

The usual summer night audience milled about the foyer as curtain time neared.

Backstage, shortly before the matinee performance, the players were called together to hear a brief, emotional speech by A. C. Blumenthal, Ziegfeld's banker friend who has undertaken financial responsibility for the show.

Blumenthal explained the revival would continue until November, when he expected it would take to the road. Even if it played to empty seats it would continue on Broadway, he asserted, a gesture in tribute to Ziegfeld's memory.

Go On With Show

"We are all sad, shocked," Blumenthal said. "We do not feel like singing and laughing. But Florenz Ziegfeld would want the show to go on. In a way it is our tribute to him. Now go out and act."

And they went out and acted. Paul Robeson sang "Old Man River" in the sad, heartbreaking manner that Ziegfeld inspired. Helen Morgan sang her plaintive songs as Ziegfeld wished her to sing them long ago. Charles Winniger was his gayest as the old riverboat showman.

Backstage again, Blumenthal said he had been designated by Billy Burke, Ziegfeld's widow, to take charge of the producer's affairs in New York until Miss Burke finishes the picture in which she is appearing on the West coast.

Blumenthal said the future of the "Follies" series, which Ziegfeld made famous and then dropped when he became interested in talking pictures, remained in doubt. Whether the series will be continued, or what disposition will be made of it, has not been decided.

Surrounded by lawsuits during his lifetime, it was believed Ziegfeld's estate, too, would be subjected to claims. The attorney who drafted his will was abroad, but reports were current that the testament leaves the entire estate to Billie Burke and their daughter, Patricia.

Ziegfeld picked his girls for "glorifying" impartially from the four points of the land—east side, west side, South Bend, North Platte, it was all the same. The latest star to shine in the Ziegfeld constallation was Ruth Etting from Nebraska.

Among the stars he developed was the Claremore, Okla., gum chewing champion, Will Rogers, who ad libbed to fame in the early "Follies." There was, too, Eddie Cantor, graduate of Gus Edwards' troupes, and Helen Morgan, from the night clubs.

Bert Williams, negro comedian, gained his fame in Ziegfeld shows, slouching across the stage and singing lugubriously such songs as "Nobody" and "My Landlady."

Ankles Important

Beautiful girls, premier comics, lilting tunes and sumptuous settings were the Ziegfeld recipe. Always doing things in the grand manner, he sought always to excel himself. The more money a show made the more he spent on the next. If he died without wealth he opened the way to millions for others.

Hundreds of beauties paraded before him and in selecting those he wanted for his productions he looked first at their ankles and then at their faces.

The ankles were more important, he explained, because they were on a level with the eyes of the audience and it was from them the audience got its first impression.

He often would make his selections without even glancing at the applicant's legs above the ankles.

"It's unnecessary," he said, "the circumference of the calf is always the same as the circumference of the neck. If you look at the ankle and then at the neck you know just what the leg is like."

The typical Ziegfeld girl is tall and stately, with a well rounded figure. Ziegfeld was opposed to the flapper type, or the girl who dieted too much. The Ziegfeld girl also has a graceful walk, knows how to carry herself well due to the influence and training of Dolores, a Ziegfeld star of about a dozen years ago.

Of all the women he had seen in his long career of "glorifying" he recently listed the following as the ten most beautiful: Gladys Glad, Marion Davies, Billie Burke, Elissa Landi, Greta Garbo, Joan Crawford, Grace Moore, Jean Harlow, Evelyn Laye, and Sally Eilers.

Flo Ziegfeld, starting as the impresario of Sandow, a strong man, graduated from brawn to Broadway. "Show Boat," sails melodically on. But its skipper is dead.

Borah Maintains Justification for Attack On Crump

Washington, July 23. (AP)—Senator Borah of Idaho, under fiery demands for apology from Representative E. H. Crump of Memphis for having made public charges that the Tennesseean's "political machine" was distributing Red Cross flour in exchange for votes, maintained today there was justification for the accusations.

His stand was taken in the face of a telegraphed report to the Red Cross from one of its own national workers that there was no foundation in the charge and that the only breakdown in distribution of the relief flour was unconnected with politics. The Red Cross also said Crump's organization had nothing to do with this relief work.

Licavoli's Arrest Is Declared Legal

Detroit, July 23 (AP)—A recorders court judge today decided that the arrest of James Licavoli, of Toledo, at the Michigan-Ohio state line last April for the murder of Henry Tupancy, Detroit, was legal, and Licavoli's examination began at once, with conflicting testimony offered by two witnesses.

Edward N. Barnard, attorney for Licavoli, previously charged that Licavoli was arrested illegally, that Toledo police took him to the state line and shoved him into Michigan where officials of this state arrested him, and that Governor George White's denial of extradition from Ohio last January should stand.

Duncan C. McCrea, assistant prosecutor, who made the arrest, presented briefs contending that the arrest was legal, and Recorders Judge Henry S. Sweeney decided in his favor, ordering the examination to proceed.

"Ma" Ferguson Is Leading In Texas

Dallas, Texas, July 23 (AP)—Mrs. Miriam A. "Ma" Ferguson, former governor, assumed a small lead over Ross S. Starling, incumbent, on the Texas election bureau's third tabulation tonight of returns from the Democratic primary.

The figures:

Ferguson, 9,618; Sterling, 9,446; Hunter 5,956.

Five other candidates trailed.

Texas wets took a 15,096 to 5,226 lead on the matter of the next congress submitting the liquor question to the people.

James V. Allred, state attorney general who recently filed ouster suits against many oil companies, had 11,515 to 8,550 for Clem Calhoun in a fight for renomination.

Date Filling

6 packages dates.
6 cups water.
1-3 cup sugar.

Cook pitted dates with sugar and water to the consistency of jam. Cool. Spread over the top of the cold cake. Cover with chocolate frosting.

SURPRISING SCENE

Maybe it was the camera that startled Queen Mary. Or perhaps she caught sight of a particularly beautiful display of flowers. Anyhow, the photographer portrayed her in this attitude of surprise as she attended the National Rose Society's Show in London, England.

Feeding Fifty Requires Some Special Planning

Family reunions, unlike what you thought, are on the increase! The great annual trek back to the old home town, far from being discarded, continues with renewed fervor this year and we find the "city sophisticates" and the "country cousins" and the aunts and uncles once-removed all returning to the scenes of their childhood so dear to their hearts.

If you are the one that's going maybe you won't need these words (maybe)! But if it's the other way 'round and you have to receive all the relatives—and, what's worse, feed 'em—it's a dish of another flavor! Then you will wish you'd clipped these quantity recipes when you had the chance.

Now don't be too sure you won't have to know anything about feeding vast numbers, even though your nearest relative lives in Port Said. You may be called on to supervise the annual outing of the Busy Bees or the annual picnic of the Something-or-Others, or at the very least, have to serve on the supper or picnic committee of your club. When that fateful day comes, these few rules will help keep your composure safe for visiting rich uncles:

Use ingredients which are easy to handle, which need little previous preparation; remember that good things come in cans and packages. Serve foods that are universally liked, so that you will satisfy the largest number. Choose a few good dishes and make quantities of them, instead of trying to have great variety. Make things which pack well and carry well, and that are not too fancy.

Since serving healthful ingredients will spare you the wails of the finicky, and serving food which is equally suitable for youngsters and oldsters saves you from having two sets of dishes, you will find that the use of pasteurized dates in your dishes will help solve your problem. They are both healthful and popular, and need no pitting or washingto use.

Several of the cafeteria and home economics departments of our colleges have developed recipes for quality servings. "With the kind permission of the copyright owners," as the radio announcers declaim, they are given here.

Fifty Thrifty Sandwiches

5 packages dates.
2 cups (7 oz.) walnut meats.
1½ cups fruit juice or cream.
2 teaspoons grated orange rind.

Moiston chopped pitted dates and nuts with fruit juice or cream. Add orange rind. Allow 2½ tablespoons of the mixture to each sandwich. Spread on whole wheat, raisin or white bread. This makes 50 servings. You can vary this by adding one dozen mashed bananas and fruit juice to moisten.

ARMS PARLEY IS ADJOURNED

Delegates Close Session With Much Hope for The Future

Geneva, Switzerland, July 23 (AP)—The international disarmament conference, which held its opening session almost six months ago, approved a resolution promising substantial reduction in armaments today and then shut up shop for an indefinite period.

The negotiators probably will get down to work again at a conference session in November or they may put it off until February. They closed the first phase of their work with scant pride in the past but with strong hopes for the future.

The final resolution, approved by 41 nations—including the United States, Great Britain, France and Japan—sketched the results of the months of labor and laid down a program of procedure designed to achieve agreement on material arms cuts during the coming months.

Results Obtained

Both Soviet Russia and Germany voted against the resolution, explaining that in doing so they were supporting disarmament. Germany objected because the document omitted reference to equality of all nations in the matter of arming, and Russia considered the terms not sufficiently specific.

These were recorded as the results already attained: acceptance of the principle of abolishing all bombardment from the air; limitation of heavy mobile land artillery and the unit tonnage of tanks; prohibition of chemical, bateriological and incendiary warfare and the establishment of an international commission to supervise execution of the disarmament convention.

Looking ahead, the conference declared that the reduction of effectives, the limitation of arms budgets, the manufacture of armaments, and naval reductions should form the basis of examination during the recess by special commissions of the conference or by negotiators representing the interested powers.

Pontiac Lake Gives Up Two More Bodies

Pontiac, Mich., July 23 (AP)—Officials removed the bodies of two more persons from Pontiac lake here today, and announced they believed the bodies of five, all recovered, constituted the death toll of the windstorm that swept the lake last Thursday, over-turning the boats of fishermen.

Four of the bodies were those of negroes. They were Green Scales and Albert Maybury, both of Pontiac, whose bodies were recovered today; Mrs. Green Scales and Mrs. Ethel McKinley, Pontiac, whose bodies were taken from the water Friday night. The other body was that of William Burnowski, white, a Detroit boxer.

$120,000,000 for Highway Projects To Be Apportioned

Washington, July 23 (AP)—Secretary Hyde today moved to supply jobs to thousands by approving apportionment of the $120,000,000 provided by the relief bill for emergency construction on the federal-aid highway system. Included was $3,779,706 for Michigan.

Differing from the usual funds which must be matched by state moneys, the emergency appropriation may be used by the states to match the annual federal aid.

The $120,000,000 is to be repaid over a period of ten years beginning in 1938 by regular deductions from regular federal-aid apportionments.

The act also provides that all contracts invoiving the expenditure of the emergency funds shall contain provisions under which state highway departments will determine wages to be paid.

Von Gronau Gets To Iceland On His Flight To Canada

Reykjavik, Iceland, July 23 (AP)—The German intercontinental flier, Captain Wolfgang Von Gronau reached here today from Seydisfjoerdur, Iceland, wth 1900 miles of his projected 5160-mile flight from Germany to Canada behind him.

Captain Von Gronau and two companions took off in a seaplane from List, island of Sylt, Germany, Friday, and landed at Seydisfjoerdur. He proceeded here today, and announced he would take off for Ivigtut, Labrador, probably next Tuesday.

The German flier, who twice before has negotiated the northern route to America, announced he would fly from Ivigtut to Montreal and end the present venture in the Canadian city. Originally he had planned to go to Chicago.

Whitedale & Gulliver

Whitedale, July 22. (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Keenan and Margaret Walker of Detroit, Mich., left for their homes early Thursday morning after a visit with relatives and friends. Margaret Walker is a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Reid and Mrs. Keenan, their daughter Martha.

Frank Nazziger of Pekin, Ill., was a visitor at the Jake Nazziger home last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Johnson and children from Virginia have been visiting with Edwin's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Johnson. Edwin is a veterinary teacher in one of Virginia's college towns.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Johnson and two children from Minneapolis, Minn., are visiting at the home of Mrs. Pete Anderson. Mrs. Johnson was formerly Astrid Anderson.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gardner are entertaining their brother-in-law and niece, Mark Stimson and daughter, Mary, from Oxford, Mich.

Miss Sofie Johnson of Chicago is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Johnson.

Mrs. John Creighton and Miss Martha Creighton of Manistique spent last Thursday at the Brearley home.

Mrs. Bob Hudson and daughter, Joyce, of Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., are spending a vacation at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Rodgers.

Mr. and Mrs. Childs and children, and Mr. and Mrs. Wadham of Chicago are enjoying their vacation at the Child's cottage on Gulliver Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rose of the Swedish Settlement were Sunday evening visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hilmer Bjorkman at Gulliver.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Anderson and son, Ernest, from the River road, spent Wednesday at the William Reid home. Walter and Ernest were helping Mr. Reid put new shingles on his big barn built over thirty years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Keenan of Detroit were dinner guests at the Frank Cole home in Manistique last Friday.

Change Artists Are Arrested Saturday

Two men and a wofan were arrested by Delta county heriff department officers and state police here yesterday on a charge of short changing a Daggett store out of $27 and were turned over to Sheriff Ed Reindl of Menominee county to face prosecution in that county.

They gave their names as Jack MaKanna and wife of Chicago and George Reilly, also of Chicago.

to ocean commerce.

Less directly, federal officials have had to deal—and carefully—with the unprecedented occupation of the capital by the bonus-asking World war veterans who came to besiege congress and were reluctant to leave after their objective was lost. Efforts having their source at the White House, the veterans administration and the treasury, were bent on sending the men home.

As the week ended President Hoover still was deeply concerned with finding the right men to fill two places on the reconstruction finance corporation board.

Applications were already pouring in from states and cities for loans out of the $300,000,000 set apart for relief of destitution, but on even larger scale plans were afoot for launching self-sustaining construction by states, counties, cities, and semi-public agencies, out of the grand total of $1,500,000,000 which the reconstruction unit is empowered to raise and lend for the purpose.

Five men are to be chosen to head the directing board of the home loan bank system. This enterprise, designed to absorb real estate paper and release fresh capital for mortgages and new construction, probably will be linked close either to the reconstruction corporation or the commerce department.

The economy act already has resulted in merger of all government radio activities under the radio commission, by presidential order. More such are to follow.

It also has placed half a million government workers on a reduced pay basis. The farm board has gone on the five-day week and other branches which can do so, will follow shortly. Many will have to lay off employes for additional periods to stay within appropriations.

Strom and Ryall Attend Meeting Of U. Of M. Alumni

Torval E. Strom and A. H. Ryall attended the University of Michigan alumni meeting at Ishpeming yesterday and returned to this city last evening. Mr. Ryall gave an interesting talk at the meeting, discussing "Relation of the Alumni to the University and the State."

Accompanying Mr. Strom to the meeting at Ishpeming were Wheaton Strom, winner of the University of Michigan scholarship in 1931 and Albert Laviolette, Jr., of St. Joseph, winner of the scholarship this year.

26 MEN ADDED TO FORD CREW

Speed Up Farm Operations Coincident With Recent Purchase

A fifty percent enlargement of the crew engaged in clearing operations at the Ford farm at West Gladstone was made yesterday when William Dixon, superintendent of the farm project, and H. Reed, employment agent, both of Iron Mountain, came here and hired 26 men.

Sixteen of the new crew are residents of the city of Gladstone, while the remaining ten are from Escanaba. The addition of this group brings the total number employed on the project to 76 and it is expected will greatly speed up the clearing operations.

The men were hired coincident with the recent purchase of an additional 120 acres of land adjacent to the tracts previously acquired. This brings the Ford holdings on the Escanaba river to slightly more than 700 acres.

The men will start to work on Monday and will be engaged in clearing land. Brushing, draining and stump removal is being carried on on the original purchase at a steady pace and it is understood that all work on this tract will be completed before operations are begun on the new holdings.

Charlie Gagnon Celebrating His Birthday Today

Charles Gagnon, well known pioneer Escanaba resident, who came to this city July 4, 1870, will observe his eighty-first birthday anniversary today.

Charlie will celebrate the event by listening to the radio report of the Pirates-Cubs double-header ball game. He is a veteran Cubs fan, and has not missed listening in on a game of the Chicago team for the last two seasons.

At one time, he was employed as a barber and later as a sign painter. In recent years, however, he has been unable to work, and old friends have helped him along. He receives gifts of clothing and other articles from them on every birthday.

POLICE HELD IN "THIRD DEGREE" DEATH

These four Nassau County, N. Y., police officers who took part in the questioning of Hyman Stark, suspected bandit, before he died of a fractured larynx, have been held on second degree murder charges. Left to right are Detective Harry Zander, Detective Leslie W. Pearsall, Lieut. Jesse Mayforth, and Detective Charles Wesser. Thirteen members of the force, under suspicion to obstruct justice and 7 were held on second-degree assault charges. Justice Meier Steinbrink described the case as "a shamful performance" and expressed the belief that Stark had died as a result of a beating he reecived at police headquarters.

Former Bark River Veterinarian Dies

Word was received here yesterday of the death in Rochester, Minn., yesterday morning of David Benson, 38, former veterinarian of Bark River.

The deceased was born in Iron River, the son of David Benson, Sr., a mine captain who passed away last February. Educated in Iron River he served in the World war as a second lieutenant in the veterinary service, coming to Bark River later. Three years ago he removed to Chicago where he has been engaged in federal inspection work in the stockyards.

Word of his death came as a shock to many here as he had spent the early part of the month in this locality renewing old acquaintances and at that time was apparently in good health.

He is survived by his wife, having married two years ago. There are no children. The body is being sent to Iron River and will arrive there today. Funeral arrangements are indefinite.

TONY ROESER IS CANDIDATE

Former Traction Employe Seeks Register Of Deeds Post

Antone Roeser, 1710 Second Avenue South, yesterday announced that he would be a candidate for the Republican nomination for register of deeds in the September 13 primary election.

Tony Roeser was born in Escanaba and has lived here his entire lifetime. For 20 years, he was employed as a conductor-motorman with the Escanaba Traction company. During two intervening years, he was engaged as a salesman for the Jewel Tea company.

Legion Magazine Editor Struck By Rock and Killed

Funeral services were held at Indianapolis Saturday for Robert F. Smith, general manager of the American Legion Monthly, who was killed by a falling stone while climbing Long's Peak in Estes Park, Colo., July 19. Mr. and Mrs. Smith were spending the vacation at the park.

With a party including his wife, four other women and a man, Mr. Smith was pausing for a rest between the lodge and a shelter house used by forest rangers when a rock, about the size of a man's first, came catapulting down the mountain side. How the rock became dislodged is not known. It struck Mr. Smith in the head. Several hours were required to take the body six miles down the treacherous trail.

American Legion officials in Colorado immediately aided Mrs. Smith as soon as the accident became known, and two officials from national headquarters, Frank E. Samuel, assistant national adjutant, and Richard E. Brann, business and circulation manager of the Monthly, met the train bearing Mrs. Smith and the body at Topeka and returned to Indianapolis for the funeral.

Mr. Smith was born in California in 1891 and came to Indianapolis as general manager of the Monthly in 1924. He gained his first Legion experience as commander of the Frank S. Reynolds post in Bakersfield, Calif. He had been both an enlisted man and a lieutenant in the World war.

When called to Indianapolis he was an executive for the Richfield Oil company.

It was his idea that changed the magazine from a weekly to a monthly, and which set up new and higher standards for editorial content. The magazine now conforms, editorially and physically, with leading publications of the nation.

FRANK HESS UP FOR REELECTION

Delta County Register Of Deeds Files His Primary Petition

Register of Deeds Frank J. Hess yesterday made formal announcement of his candidacy for renomination and re-election, on the Republican ticket, at the September primaries and at the November election. Mr. Hess yesterday filed with the county clerk his nomination petitions, carrying signatures from every section of the county.

Mr. Hess has most efficiently served in the office of register of deeds for several years and it is upon his record of service in an important county office, that he will seek renomination and re-election.

Mr. Hess was born in this city and has spent all of his life here. In earlier years his activity as a baseball player and later as an umpire, gave to him an especially wide acquaintance. In public service his conscientious attention to public duties entrusted to him, have won and maintained for him friendships that are bound to prove most valuable in the present campaign.

In making formal announcement of his candidacy yesterday Mr. Hess said: "I desire to formally announce my candidacy for the Republican nomination for register of Deeds, of Delta county, at the September primary election. In my years of service, in the office of register of deeds, I have constantly endeavored to give to the people of this county a careful and conscientious service. My years of experience, I believe, are valuable to the people of this county and if renominated and re-elected I pledge myself to give the same careful attention to my duties that I have always rendered in the past."

GREEN'S PROPOSAL

WITH FROM ten to eleven million unemployed in the United States, organized labor through its spokesman, William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, proposes the five-day week and the six-hour day as its program for relieving the present economic distress.

To the casual reader such a plan may seem to be impractical, but it will be recalled that back in the days when labor was forced ten, twelve and fourteen hours per day the demands for shorter hours were also ridiculed, but as a result of organized labor's efforts the eight-hour day is now considered fair and practical.

The machine has come to stay. Even though the technological unemployment brought about the introduction of machine methods is not being absorbed by he new industries that are created, the world cannot go back to the days of the oxcart and hand labor. The trend must be forever onward, but organized labor feels that the working man should share in the benefits of machine economy in wages, more leisure, opportunity for recreation and enjoyment of increased cultural activity.

The shorter working day and week is organized labor's plan for a wider distribution of employment. The cause of labor is closely intertwined with that of capital. The former needs wages so that it can purchase the goods it desires and needs, while the latter must have a demand for the goods it produces if it, too must prosper. When people have more leisure time they undoubtedly spend more, and increased spending means increased consumption, greater production and more jobs.

There are some industries, of course, that could not operate as economically under the time reduction plan. But many, such as the Kellogg company, Shell Oil, Ford Motor company, building and garment trades, have found that it can be done with no appreciable loss of efficiency.

It is becoming more and more certain that our economic structure must be altered. More and more people flood the earth, while inventions constantly reduce places of usefulness for them. There is only so much work to be done and there is an over-supply of hands to do it. Only by dividing this labor among all can each have a share. Organized labor's plan seems, if not an actual solution, a step in that direction. But how such a solution can be brought about is the real problem.

FAVORS MEMORIAL

AUDITOR General O. B. Fuller, who was one of the sponsors of the Lumberman's Memorial recently erected and dedicated on the banks of the Au Sable river near East Tawas, writes the Press hat he would like to see a similar monument placed in the upper peninsula. He states he be very willing to support a movement of this nature.

The highly respected veteran state officer has always displayed a keen interest in lumbering in his state. During the early years when he was employed as a scaler for the Ford River Lumber company in Delta county and afterwards as a lumber inspector, he came to know the lumberjack and his ways and ever since has had a high regard for those hardy pioneers of the north woods.

There are many suitable sites for a lumberjack's memorial in this vicinity. One of the earliest, if not he first sawmills, was ereced on the Escanaba river, near the present site of the Escanaba Paper company's plant. On the Ford river, where Mr. Fuller spent many of his early years, lumbering operations were started long before the Civil war, and history records that the Whitefish river counry heard the ring of the woodsman's axe about three-quarters of a century ago.

The upper peninsula owes much to the lumberjacks and someday it should erect a permanent monument as an expression of its appreciation for what they have done in the upbuilding of this great commonwealth.

AUTO LICENSE OUT

THESE ARE times when exceptions must be made to rules, and the Press believes that Secretary of State Frank Fitzgerald will receive only expressions of appreciation as a result of his decision to reduce auomobile licenses to half price, effective August 1, instead of waiting until September 1 as is required by law.

More than a 100,000 automobiles have not been taken out for use because of the owner's inability to pay the full price for license. Mr. Fitzgerald reports. As a result, both weight and gasoline tax receipts are considerably below the last year figure at this time.

Dealers in automobiles, gasoline and motor services will appreciate the reduction to half price a month ahead for it should mean a stimulaton of business activity. After all, now that the state keeps the highways open for traffic the year around, there is no reason why the rate should not be half-price after July 1.

OBVIOUSLY A RACKET

THE PUBLIC is inclined to believe that the state and federal governments have too many laws on the statute books, but it also believes there could be a tightening of some of the laws to do away with many of the rackets that develop from time to time.

The Chamber of Commerce in Sault Ste. Marie did a good stroke of business the other day by exposing the fact that solicitors for an organization which proposes to give relief to taxpayers are getting 70 cents on every dollar they collect in the name of the organization. The organization is able to operate because of the weakness of the state laws.

Any small group of individuals, bent on fleeing the public by taking advantage of the psychology of the times, may organize and operate in the state, apparently unmolested except for an expose by the press. Some time ago there operated in the stae a group of solicitors who proposed to get lifetime license plates for automobile owners. Their activities started after there had been considerable propaganda throughout the state on a proposed change in the automobile licensing law. Months ago solicitors came through the Upper Peninsula and got signatures in favor of repeal of the eighenth amendment, pocketing all or a large percentage of the money they got with each signature. It was suggested by the solicitors, of course, hat the signer should make a contribution "even as small as 50 cents."

Michigan's laws ought to be tightened against he forming of companies, associaions or whatever title they assume whose activities are unquestionably fraudulent. In addition, every village and city ought to have more stringent ordinances against such solicitors, if the state laws will permit such ordinances. The public has tolerated racketeers much too long.—Ironwood Globe.

THE THINGS TOO INTIMATE

I do not keep so many things,
For loves that are remembered not
Without the prompting keeping brings
Are best forgot.
Although within no book no flow'r
Is pressed for stranger eyes to see,
The memory of a garden hour
Remains with me.

I do not keep a bit of lace
That someone loved and loving wore;
I keep the memory of a face,
And that is more.
For love that needs reminding yet
Has loved but little, after all;
And only things I can't forget
I would recall.

I do not keep so many things,
The things material and cold;
'Tis love that recollection brings,
As I grow old.
The things too intimate to keep
The eyes of strangers shall not see;
My memories, when I lie asleep,
Shall sleep with me.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

MONA MORAN who supports her mother, invalid father, little sister, KITTY, and ne'er-do-well brother, BUD, is determined to marry for wealth and position. She is receptionist for a Wall Street law firm and in the office sees men of the world to which she aspires.

Mona's brother announces that her childhood sweetheart, STEVE SACCARELLI, grandson of the ice and coal dealer, has returned home. Steve disappeared three years earlier and it was rumored he was in prison though Mona never believed this.

She meets him on her way to work one morning. Steve is handsome, well dressed and well mannered. Mona is not anxious to renew the friendship but agrees to dine with Steve. Later in the day she meets BARRY TOWNSEND, a young man of wealth and social prominence. She refuses Barry's dinner invitation, telling him she never makes engagements with clients or employers.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER IV

After leaving Mona at the office Steve headed his car northward with on plan except to go home until time to call for her at five.

His hand lay on the wheel mechanically, the car responding to his slightest touch with a sensitive race horse. He had not been to bed. Three years of loneliness coupled with that sense of security provided by sufficient money honestly come by had added a piquant flavor to New York's night life.

Before Steve had gone away he had seen only the outskirts of that life. Today he could take part and fling foolish gold with the others.

And Steve wanted to show Mona this New York to which he had ascended. He had acquired an ease of manner, a sense of dress, an air. It stirred his vanity to be able to show Mona the new Steve, to walk on Broadway the Park Avenue way.

It was true, as he had told Mona, that before he had disappeared he had been involved with gangsters, innocently enough at first, had driven what the tabloids refer to as the "hold-up car," though as far as Steve knew he had been involved in no gun-play.

It seemed to be easy money. All Steve had to do was pick up his fare as prearranged, drive to a certain hide-out and collect his split. That the gang held out on him frequently made little difference. What he received was velvet and his risk was slight.

When he came to realize that the gang which hired him was not bound on pleasure parties, that the cash they handed him in furtive though generous amounts was offered usually after newspapers had printed accounts of this robbery or that along the jewel centers of the town Steve tried to pull out.

He was approached carefully and warned. Leave town and they'd get him. Or let the cops get him for a stretch at Sing Sing.

"You haven't anything on me, buddies," Steve insisted.

"Yeah? Tell that to the judge and see what it gets you!" They spoke glibly of accessory before and after the fact, of receiving stolen goods (this consisted of carrying the swag, unapprised, to the fences) of "raps" taken by innocent members of their organization.

Oh yes, they had plenty on him. So Steve perceived.

"Yellow," the gang called him.

"Green," replied Steve. But privately he told himself, "Getting less green!"

It happened that Steve, back in the days before his association with "the gang" had often had as passenger in his cab a young man about town whose wavering footsteps could not always make the distance to his club at one o'clock in the morning.

Cruising about the supper club zone in that du'l period just after the theater crowds had been cared for, Steve formed the habit of picking up this passenger and dropping him safely at his club entrance.

This service was the beginning of a friendship. The night after the next jewel robbery had blazoned itself in morning and evening papers, Steve, driving idly past the club, had seen his old friend in an honest and upright condition waggling a finger into the traffic for a taxi. Steve drew to the curb and the young man got into the cab.

He was going to South America that evening, the passenger said. To make conversation Steve announced he would like to go too.

"Come on!" The invitation was spontaneous and heartfelt. "Here's the idea. Wind up any business you may have on hand and call for me at 11. You can ship as my man. The old boy got cold feet yesterday."

The trivial matter of passport could be arranged unblushingly. Baggage, my eye! Money? Here in the old jeans aplenty.

It was thus hastily agreed. Steve wound up his business by changing the license plate and ditching the taxi out Canarsie way, then lying low in a downtown movie house until sailing time.

In an open-all-evening shop selling men's wear he bought a hat designed to change his identity completely—a trick foisted on the world by none other than Colonel Lindbergh and worth adopting.

In a hired taxi he called for his benefactor at 11 o'clock. They boarded the Miranda in the North river, the white stars and blinking moon the only interested witnesses. New York slipped away at midnight from the ship's placid stern.

And that was that.

Now after three years Steve was back, a man of affairs. A partner, in fact, in a prosperous business in Brazil. He wanted to show the folks and he wanted to show Mona.

As he drove north Steve reflected that he wanted to take Mona to the swanky supper club he had found last evening.

She was a knockout but maybe she didn't have the things to wear. Not that he would mind—but she would. He had been away from civilization for three years but he knew women. It was no cinch these days for a girl to support herself, let alone her family. That good for nothing brother of Mona's—

Steve himself had bushels of money. Why not send her a gown just to wear that evening?

It did not occur to him that Mona's code might fail to include the acceptance of gowns sent to her by men friends, however well intended such a gift might be.

Steve closed his eyes and thought—as he had often thought—of Mona in a costume really befitting her beauty. That graceful figure, that hair, that creamy skin, the gray-green eyes, the witsfulness of Mona's smile, strangely at variance with its setting—

Steve laughed aloud as an idea occurred to him. Go to Pilgrim's and make old Pilgrim dress Mona up.

"They don't have anything too good for her, at that," Steve told himself.

Two hours consultation with Henri at Pilgrim's did much to depiete Steve's ideas as well as his bank roll.

He slipped five dollars to the model displaying the gown because her coloring approached Mona's and because she had shown untiring patience. The messenger boy got another five to insure prompt delivery.

Then Steve dropped into a florist's, left an order and took his way to his mother's for a nap.

On the way up he recalled the proposed visit to the hospital. That necessitated other purchases and when a dressing gown, a steamer basket of fruit and some tobacco had been added he nosed the car at last toward the little Third avenue flat.

Maybe Mona wouldn't like his buying all these things. That idea sudenly occurred to Steve. He dashed for a telephone and only by a series of threats did he get the magnificent Henri on the wire.

"Say," Steve said wildly, "slip a note in that box, will you? Something to the effect that I'm only lending the stuff. She might not take it otherwise, see? Fix it up, you know how. And sign it 'Steve.'"

"Ze box for Mees Moran? She has gone already." Henri waved an apologetic hand unseen over the phone.

"You are a liar," Steve told him cheerfully. "If it has, then get it back. I want that note enclosed."

"Yes Sair."

Marvelling at the innocence of the gentleman—an innocence already perceived and exploited when the bill was presented—Henri did as he was bid.

Henri's acquaintance with young ladies had not included those who required an apology for sending around ermine wraps and Paton gowns.

Well, well, perhaps the innocent young gentleman knew best.

AMERICANS PUSH FORWARD

On July 25, 1918, French and American troops pushed forward more than two miles in continuing their drive against the Germans on a 50-mile front.

They reported the capture of huge quantities of ammunition, guns and supplies and crack German divisions were rapidly disintegrating under the constant pressure of the fighting.

French and American troops were gradually narrowing the mouth of the salient created by the May offensive directed by Von Hindenburg, and it was now only 21 miles wide.

On the Italian front, an Austrian counter attack was beaten off with great loss to the attackers.

THEATRES

Big in theme, cast and production, a picture dealing with one of the most vital themes to women of the world today comes to the Delft theatre.

It is RKO-Pathe's "Westward Passage" which presents the glamorous star, Ann Harding, and an imposing supporting cast in a drama of love and matrimony, divorce and second marriage.

All of the vast resources of the RKO organization were combined in making this picture as big as the theme upon which it is based. Scores of imposing settings, including a Swiss chalet, a Paris chateau, a New York art studio, a New England inn, a honeymoon cottage and a trans-Atlantic liner were constructed.

Against these colorful backgrounds unfolds the intensly human story of a woman torn between two loves. Miss Harding is seen as a girl who tests the theory that a woman's first love is the dominant passion of her life. With one romance ended on the rocks of divorce, the heroine of "Westward Passage" gambles for happiness in a second marriage and meets the problems that today confront hundreds of thousands of women.

Robert Milton, a foremost figure of the American drama, and the man who guided Miss Harding in "Devotion," directed. Laurance Olivier, with Irving Pichel, ZaSu Pitts, Juliette Compton, Nance O'Neill, Irene Purcell, Bonita Granville and Donald Reed head the supporting cast.

Who would like to journey far

The griffons, you know, watches over the "gold of Scythia." This is the tender of dreams and in it, or rather thorough its exchange, is to be found the sort of happiness which can never be taken away. It is a good idea for each of us to keep a pet griffon.

The other day we went over and called on Charlie and Moms Hovey at Indian Lake. We got invited back for lunch and we are going as soon as we can manage it. Once I was a young miss
Who liked to laugh and joke
And trade my favors for a kiss

But one day Sorrow came along
And soon found me out,
He silenced all my pretty song
And quieted my shout.

I slyly waited him to pass
And now behind my door
I'm twice as gay as any lass
Who ever laughed before;

Twice as gay! And no one knows
Who live outside my gate,
That sheltered by my sober clothes
I thumb my nose at fate.

It is not so much what life does to us that counts. It is the manner in which we accept that decides what sort of person we elect to be. . . .

Few Forest Fires For Delta County

Frequent rains during the last week have been a factor in keeping forest fires at a minimum, conservation headquarters at Escanaba reports.

There have been no recent fires of any consequence, and damage so far this season has been much lower than last year. Delta county has had 45 small fires reported so far this season, out of 596 reported in the Upper Peninsula.

Dickinson county, for the second season, has reported the most fires for any county in the "fire zone" of the state. Until the second week in July this county had reported 90 fires. Iron county had reported 79 forest fires and Mackinac and Marquette counties, 60 and 63 fires, respectively.

National Forest Income Reduced; Moss Being Sold

Uncle Sam's cash register for the National Forests of the Lake States Region indicates a general decrease in receipts of about sixty-two per cent as compared with the previous period, according to a statement compiled in Regional Forester E. W. Tinker's office in Milwaukee for the past fiscal year. The Marquette in the Upper Peninsula took fourth place in receipts.

Less than $15,000 was received in 1932, and over $39,000 in 1931. The greatest decrease was in proceeds from the sales of timber, which dropped from $33,000 to only $9,000. During periods of over-production, from excessive cutting in private timber, it is not the policy of the Forest Service to put Government timber on the market except as it is needed to keep the mills running, which are dependent upon it, according to Mr. Tinker.

Seven tons of swamp moss for reindeer feed was included among the minor products sold from the forests. A local Santa Claus, who keeps a herd of reindeer near the Superior National Forest for use at Christmas time in connection with municipal holiday demonstrations or store advertising, was the purchaser. Nine individuals or companies cut government timber in trespass, were caught, and paid a total amount of $312.42. This was less than the year before, when twelve trespassers tried to get away with over $1200 worth of timber.

Peninsula Cattle Get Ready for Fair

From present indications, the cattle exhibit at the Upper Peninsula state fair in Escanaba Aug. 22 to 27 will excell all previous years.

Additional awards to cattle exhibitors in the nature of framed pictures furnished by the leading breed associations, have been announced by J. D. Erskine, director of dairy cattle at the Upper Peninsula fair. These awards will be made at the dairymen's banquet to be held Thursday night, Aug. 25.

Attention of the dairymen is called to page 152 of the premium list regarding rules for the special production class awards.

Killing Of State's Song Birds Banned

Lansing—An attempt to halt an apparent increase in the killing of song birds will be made by the Department of Conservation according to instructions given all conservation officers.

Officers are being asked to give as much attention as possible to stopping the destruction of song birds and the public is being urged by the Department to assist in the campaign by reporting to the nearest officer all violations.

Most of the depredations against song birds, the destruction of nests and eggs and the killing of the birds, are done by small boys and better results can possibly be obtained by the parents then by the officers, according to the Department. However, officers are being instructed that when necessary, to take the boys into juvenile court and to confiscate the weapons used.

Maximum Fine $100

Numerous complaints of violations of the law protecting song birds have been received recently by the Department and in each instance the Department has requested that the information be given to the local conservation officer.

Michigan law protects song birds at all times of the year and fixes a maximum penalty of a $100 fine and 90 days in jail. The only birds which may be killed at any time of the year are sparrows, starlings, blackbirds, crows, hawks and owls. All game birds are protected except during the open seasons and song birds are protected the twelve months of the year.

REPLIES TO STENBERG

Bark River, Mich.,
July 21, 1932

Dear Editor:

I hope you will allow me a space to answer a question which Mr. Carl Stenberg asked me. Mr. Stenberg I am not a Scotch and will gladly answer more than one question.

Don't feel sorry that I didn't get some ice cream, because I walked out with a dozen other taxpayers who refused to have ice cream just for the reason they came to a school meeting and not a party. Personally I cannot sell my citizen rights for a dish of ice cream.

It is not against the law to eat ice cream in school, but it is not very honorable to solicit votes by treat. Next year if I live I will attend the school meeting as usual, but if the school board is going to hold a party instead of a meeting, I will stay at home.

Now the main question, whats wrong with the meeting. Carl, you know that Andrew F. Anderson brought a very interesting question about the Riverside school basement. The school board didn't even ask what's wrong with the basement because a bunch of friends didn't want to hear anything about that.

When I made a proposition to save 800 dollars, the school board said it is no sense. When I talked about reducing officers' salaries you and the others were laughing. But Carl, in the last few years our school officers' salaries have been aised several times, and now they are obsolutely too high.

Our teachers salaries were reduced, and even President Hoover reduced his own salary to give a good example to the other public officers, but your friends protected their salary with ice cream.

Yours very truly,
Stanley Mroczkowski,
Bark River, Farmer.

FRATERNAL

E. R. A. Picnic

Members of the E. R. A. lodge will hold their third annual picnic at Pioneer Trail park today. A program of athletic events will be held and prizes will be awarded to winners. Picnickers are asked to bring their basket lunches. Coffee, cream, ice cream and pop will be furnished on the grounds.

Youth Exonerated

Sault Ste. Marie.—In an inquest that lasted less than half an hour, N. L. Field, Jr., was absolved of all blame in the death of James Howard on Riverside rive Sunday.

The verdict was: James Howard came to his death by a car driven by N. L. Field, Jr., by an unavoidable accident.

To the Voters of Delta County

I wish to announce to the voters of Delta county, that I am a candidate for the office of Register of Deeds on the Republican ticket.

I was born at Flat Rock November 13, 1903, educated in the local schools, and am a graduate of Cloverland Business College. Completed a course in Business Administration and accounting at LaSalle Extension university.

I was employed as accountant for six years by the Hewitt Grocery Company, and have held a similar position with the Escanaba Veneer Company for the past six years, and feel that my experience and training is such that it equips me to fulfill the duties of this office in an efficient manner.

I sincerely request your support at the primaries September 13th, 1932.

"They say . . ."
KILLED BRUTUS

Brutus was a good dog, the friendly, tail-wagging, smiling kind of dog. Wanting to be petted he jumped upon the lady, who was frightened. The person she told this to said Brutus had jumped and snapped. The next person had said Brutus was frothing at the mouth. Some boys saw Brutus and threw stones. Brutus ran. "Mad dog! Mad dog!" the boys cried. Brutus was cornered and shot.

From gossip to scandal is a short step, and heaven help the person or thing against whom the public mind is poisoned.

Successful merchants and manufacturers are those who realize the mischief that can be created by "They say." These business men, determined to say the truth, themselves, about their own merchandise and service, employ advertising to protect themselves and the public from half truths, from falsehoods and from the common garden variety of ignorance that works havoc among the very best of intentions.

These merchants and manufacturers are under no delusions. They know they cannot tell untruths about their products and get away with it because there is nothing that will bring ruin so fast and sure as to turn the bright, white light of publicity on inferior wares or unsatisfactory service.

Advertising forces manufacturers to compete for your trade and your dollars. It compels the offering of better merchandise, better service, fair prices. You can trust the advertisements in this paper!

AT THE TIME of te discovery of America, the Indians were using wampun for numerous purposes, the most important being its use as money. The Colonists had brought little money with them, and since most of their business dealings were with the Indians, they, also, adopted the wampum beads as legal currency. It is a mystery how the Indians, using only stone drills, were able to bore the small holes through the slender, brittle, shell beads.

Health Talks Second Series Ends This Week

This week's meetings which open Monday will close the second series of health lectures which is being conducted in Delta county by Miss Helen Linn, graduate nurse and nutritionist.

The meetings are attracting a large number of interested people, attendance during the week just past in spite of the intense heat reaching over 300.

Miss Linn is talking to women of the rural communities on the subject of balanced, inexpensive diet, the budgeting of household food expenditures, and the preparation of food in connection with good health.

Her schedule will be slightly changed this week, the class at Temple school, Ford River Switch, meeting Tuesday morning at 9:30 o'clock instead of Friday morning, as Miss Linn must be in southern Michigan the last of the week.

The meetings are:

Monday—Kipling, 2 p. m.; Perkins, 7:30 p. m.

Tuesday — Temple school, 9:30 a. m.; Nahma, 2 p. m.; Bark River, 7:30 p. m.

Wednesday—Flat Rock, 2 p. m.; Cornell, 7:30 p. m.

Thursday—Alton, 9:30 a. m.; Garden, 2 p. m.; Rock, 7:30 p. m.

Dr. Simpson To Occupy Pulpit

Dr. Herbert Simpson of Lansing is arriving here with his family, to take charge of the pastorate of the First Presbyterian church during the absence of Rev. Carl E. Berger who is leaving on a vacation trip on Monday. Dr. Simpson will occupy the Berger residence, 208 South Fourth street, during his stay in Escanaba. Dr. Simpson has occupied the pulpit of the First Presbyterian church on previous occasions and is well known to members of its congregation.

Store Burglarized

The H. J. Skinner general store was burglarized for the fourth time Thursday evening. The robber gained entrance into the store through the rear window. Evidently the robber was in a hurry as he overlooked a ten dollar bill and a one dollar bill while they removed the small change which was in the cash register. The robbery was discovered Friday morning when the store was opened for business and has been reported to the state police at Newberry for investigation.

Mrs. Heidebreicht Entertains

Mrs. Henry Heidebreicht entertained a few friends at her home Tuesday evening. Five hundred proved a pleasant pastime with high score being awarded to Mrs. N. K. Zeigler, second high to Mrs. H. J. Skinner and low to Mrs. John Hanger. Dainty refreshments were served at the close of cards.

Following a visit in Munising at the home of Mr. Alfred Florence, Mrs. Barney Smathers and Miss Faye Fitzpatrick returned to their respective homes here Thursday evening.

Budget Reduced

Iron Mountain — Because of economic conditions, the Iron Mountain board of education last night made another drastic reduction in he school budget, cut teachers' salaries an additional 10 per cent and the superintendent to $4,500 a year, eliminated the positions of truant officer and school nurse on a full time basis and left the way open for the practice of additional savings as the school year progresses.

The 1932-33 budget is now $53,684.34 less than that of 1931-32. Of this amount the sum of $44,125 will be directly reflected in a lower school tax levy. The difference of $9,559.34 is the reduction that is anticipated in miscellaneous income.

Michigan tourist associations spent $77,000 last year to attract visitors to the state, and this sum was matched by the state conservation department for advertising.

No Fires, Deaths, Wrecks Or Arrests In Gladstone News

Firemen twiddle their thumbs, police walk their beats idly swinging their "saps," hoisting chains on wreckers rust, undertakers are idle and news hounds despair as week after week passes and the record books show no fires, no arrests, no wrecks and no deaths in Gladstone. Even the stork and "cupid" have found no work to do during the past several weeks.

Never in the history of Gladstone say the old-timers has there been a period when there has been such a lapse in the activities of life.

Gingrass Candidate For County Surveyor

J. A. Gingrass, Gladstone, announced yesterday that he would enter the county political field as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for the office of county surveyor. His petitions have been placed in circulation and will probably be filed early in the week.

Mr. Gingrass has been a resident of Delta county for a great many years, having lived both at Escanaba and Gladstone. He has engaged in surveying since the early days and was one of the crew of surveyors which established the right-of-way for the Soo Line through this section.

DI-JO

Will Relieve Your STOMACH ILLS

There isn't any use in suffering with stomach trouble a minute longer. Go to your druggist and get a bottle of Di-Jo and take it according to directions.

Then lay off the rich heavy food you've been stuffing yourself with. If you get plenty of exercise all the better. Eat light meals and if you aren't getting exercise take a moderate amount, increasing it a little each day.

If when you lie down the gas presses your heart and seems to "fill you up," take an extra dose of Di-Jo with warm water.

The purpose of Di-Jo is first to neutralize the acid condition of the stomach and to lend assistance to the gastric juices of the stomach in digesting food. That is where the name came from.

Within a short time you'll find that not only does your stomach feel better but you'll find also that your food is giving strength to the body. You'll grow stronger and you'll feel better if you'll only follow directions.

Caution:—The average person recovering from illness or distress is apt to stop the treatment. Don't fool yourself that you can get rid of illness so easily. Continue to eat moderately and continue using Di-Jo long after you think it necessary until your stomach and your system are in a condition to withstand regular meals.

Too often people "feel all right again" and start on the same old track again. First thing they know their systems commence to weaken and then they have to go through the same tortures again.

If your bowels are lazy it is absolutely necessary that the poison be eliminated from them. The stomach cannot function properly with a congested intestinal tract. Go to your druggist and get a bottle of Di-Vac and take it for a few days. You'll not need to take it very long because if you eat the right food and take Di-Jo it will not be long before the system can take care of itself without a laxative or a purge.

KRONAN LODGE PICNIC TODAY

Sports, Dancing to Entertain Crowd at Lagoon Beach

A large crowd is expected to go to Stonington today to attend the annual picnic sponsored by the Kronan lodge. The picnic is to be an all day affair with a program of outdoor sports, dancing and swimming. The picnic grounds are located on Lagoon Beach.

The affair is open to all members of the Kronan lodge and their friends. Both Gladstone and Escanaba lodge members are expected to be present.

The sports program will include a horse shoe tournament, kitten ball games, foot races and water contests. Events for men, women and children will be staged.

All picnickers are expected to bring their own lunch baskets, but coffee, cream and sugar will be provided by the sponsors of the picnic. Other refreshments will be sold by the owners of the beach property.

Arrangements for the picnic were made by Adolph Johnson, Hilding Granberg and William Nelson, Kronan lodge members.

Hoppers Convert Hay To Chicken

B. R. Micks, Gladstone merchant and president of the City Club, never overlooks a bet.

At the outskirts of Gladstone Mr. Micks owns a tract of ground upon which the grass was permitted to grow, with the expectation that a hay crop would be harvested.

A short time ago when Mr. Micks visited the land he found the field literally alive with grasshoppers. They were waxing fat on the luxurious growth of hay.

The loss of the hay worried him. He must devise some means of preventing a financial loss. He pondered the question but a short time before the solution offered itself.

Today 250 chickens are being fattened in the field and Micks will market his hay crop in the form of chicken — through the medium of the hoppers. The hoppers eat the hay, the chickens eat the hoppers and Mr. Micks smiles as he watches the process of conversion without effort on his part.

Interest, Bond Payments Drain City Cash Account

City of Gladstone special assessment bonds in the amount of $3,000.00, issued to finance the construction of the Michigan avenue pavement, were retired recently, according to City Manager F. R. Buechner. A further retirement of $1,500.00 in bonds will be made August 1. The issue to be retired is a portion of the Minnesota avenue paving bonds.

Bond and interest payments have been heavy during the past month, Mr. Buechner states, and have taxed the city finances. Tax collections, however, are expected to replenish the funds of the city.

The collection of taxes so far have exceeded the amount collected up to the present date of last year, City Treasurer Otto Haberman states. The total amount so far received is $2,856.19. Taxes do not become delinquent until August 15. At that time a 4 per cent penalty will be added.

Fifteen To Attend Institute At Michigamme

Gladstone will be represented at the Michigamme institute by fifteen persons, according to Rev. H. W. Colenso, dean of the institute. The institute will open on July 29 and remain in session until August 8. A number of speakers of national repute will appear during the institute to address the delegates.

Those from Gladstone who have indicated that they will attend are: Rev. and Mrs. H. W. Colenso, James Colenso, Margaret LaFaver, Agnes Mitchell, Betty Raymond, Howard Mathison, Ronald Murray, Robert Foster, George Cameron, Mrs. Wm. Foster, Viola Foster, Wallace Cameron and Mr. and Mrs. Nye Quistorf. Mr. Cameron will act as recreational director during the institute, Miss Foster will be pianist and Mr. and Mrs. Quistorf will have charge of the dining hall.

"Gangster" Shots Rouse Residents Of West Gladstone

Friday night at 11 o'clock the stillness of the night was broken by a series of sharp reports as though a machine gun was being fired. People living in West Gladstone, aroused by the sound, were certain that the territory had been invaded by gangsters.

For several minutes the reports continued and, according to those venturesome enough to look out of their windows, red flashes accompanied each report. Convinced that somebody was "shooting it out" no one stirred from his home to investigate.

When the firing ceased and the night became quiet again, the roused neighborhood returned to their beds pondering the mystery and wondering what gruesome sight would greet the morn.

Morning came and with it the revelation.

Parked in the street was an old touring car and stretched out in each of its seats was a young man. Fearfully they were approached by an early riser. He stretched out his hand to touch the face of the nearest one. He dreaded the contact which he was certain would reveal the clammy coldness of death.

Before his hand reached its objective, however, the young man opened his eyes. Noting the startled look upon the early riser's face, the young man inquired as to the cause. The events of the night then came to light.

The shooting was nothing more than the backfiring of the motor which ceased only when the young men gave up the attempt to make it run properly. They were unaware that the people in the neighborhood had become concerned over the noise.

Check Cashing Charge Is Legal

According to advice received from national headquarters of the American Legion by the August Mattson Post of the Legion here, there is nothing in the law making it illegal for banks to make a charge to veterans for cashing government compensation checks, according to John W. Pole, comptroller of the currency. The comptroller's office has jurisdiction in a supervisory capacity over national banks throughout the United States.

"Of course where the veteran has an account at the bank where his checks are cashed, such a charge is not proper," the information reads.

Complaints have been received from veterans that they were being charged by banks.

Demand Better But No Change In Berry Prices

A slightly improved demand, with no material improvement in prices, has given slight encouragement to the thousands of unemployed who are endeavoring to bolster the family purse by picking blueberries in the marshes of the Upper Peninsula. According to local buyers the price yesterday ranged from $1.25 to $2.00 per crate in Milwaukee, while in the fields the pickers were receiving from 80 cents to $1.00.

The greater portion of the berries being picked in the immediate vicinity of Gladstone are being sold locally or to tourists at $1.00 to $1.60 a crate. The better price is paid for extra fancy berries that have been sorted.

The number of pickers has been greatly decreased during the past week, it is reported, but with the improvement in price that should follow the increased demand, it is expected that those who have quit will return to the marshes.

Blueberry harvesting has become one of the most profitable of upper peninsula industries and, with normal prices, many families earn sufficient money during the blueberry season to carry them through the winter.

Runsat Will Seek Sheriff's Job Again

Sheriff Frank Runsat yesterday filed his petition for re-nomination for sheriff on the Republican ticket and Attorney John I. Penegor filed for judge of probate on the Republican ticket. James Knox of Wetmore, supervisor of Munising township, has had out a petition for sheriff on the Republican ticket but has not yet filed. Up to date there are two candidates, Fred Hess and Louis Pelletier, for the office of sheriff on the Democrat ticket, both having filed. There are rumors that there will be two more candidates for the nomination for sheriff on the Democratic ticket, but neither have yet made formal announcement. No candidate either Republican or Democrat has as yet appeared in opposition to County Clerk Thos. N. Hannah. On the Democrat side there are two candidates for the nomination for sheriff, James Hoy, for county treasurer, and one, James Hosking, for judge of probate. The Democrats have no candidate for prosecuting attorney, which office is now held by R. E. O'Brien.

Attorney Peters To Oppose O'Brien

Attorney Clifford Peters is a candidate for the nomination in opposition to Attorney O'Brien on the Republican ticket. Probate Judge R. W. Nebel will file his petition for a re-nomination on the Republican ticket the first of the week.

A somewhat peculiar condition has arisen over the filling of the impending vacancy on the Alger county road commission on account of the action of the county board. The board adopted a resolution at a recent meeting to dispense with the election of road commissioners at the general elections and, instead, to fill vacancies as they occur, by appointment of the board. The term of W. H. Masters, expires January 1st, 1933, that being the expiration of the time for which he was elected. According to the resolution of the board, the appointment would be made at the October meeting. Mr. Masters has filed a petition for re-nomination on the Republican ticket and William Duffer has also entered the race on the Republican ticket. Legally, the supervisors may rescind the resolution adopted last spring dispensing with the election of members of the road board. The possibility of a political complication arising over the action of the supervisors is obvious. This is the first time for several years that there have been more than one or two candidates on the Democratic ticket. The last day for filing is next Tuesday, the 26th, at four o'clock central standard time.

HELP EMPLOYES

The L. S. & I. Ry. Co. has had on three extra coaches from Marquette and Ishpeming for several days past, furnishing free transportation to its employes and employes of the C. C. I. company living in Marquette county or in any place along the line who are unemployed and wish to obtain a supply of fuel free of charge. As many as two hundred men have taken advantage of the offer. They are let off at Kellen, near Munising, and allowed to cut down timber, which is loaded on and shipped into Marquette or Ishpeming, or other places where the employes live. No charge is made for freight or passengers. Each employe is allowed six cords cubic measure. This will cut up about eighteen tiers or ordinary stove wood valued at over $7,000.

MUNISING BRIEFS

Robert Smith and Lawrence Lewis of Gladstone were guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Madigan this week. Also Mayor Ray Dixon and wife of Ferndale.

Mrs. Mary Degarie left yesterday for a visit with relatives at Paspe and Montreal and will also visit the Shrine of St. Anne de Beaupre. She will be gone one month.

John E. Ryan went to Iron River yesterday.

The Munising township school board will meet next Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Belongia were visitors at Marquette Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Brown visited at Ishpeming Friday.

More Tourists Go Into Luce County When Heat Rises

A better trade from tourists has been noted here during the days of extreme heat, many being driven from the down-state cities and points farther south. For several nights this week cars were parked thickly along the Newberry streets and restaurants did a business which suggested at least the other years when the "summer trade" was the important item in the business of the town.

The Tahquamenon river continues to be the great drawing card of this end of the peninsula, many cars coming here for an over-night stop, sometimes two of them, in order to make the trip. Captain Joe Beach reports that the river business is better than he had any reason to expect in view of the times.

On Friday a good crowd visited the famous falls. It was interesting to note that most of those on the boat told of the trip by others who had made it and praised the beauty and unusual beauty and restfulness of a day spent on the river.

Deer, Fawn, Cranes

A sight of wild life is always the signal for excitement among the passengers. Friday was windy and wraps were comfortable, so that the usual number of deer was not sighted. However a dozen or more made their appearance and one doe and her graceful fawn stood on a shore bank long enough to give the visitors a good look at them before floating off into the shore growth.

In two instances blue cranes stood quietly in the water until the boat was almost passed before lifting into the air and giving the decorative effect of a Japanese print to an already beautiful landscape. Beaver cuttings were plentiful along the shore and the boat men report many bear signs. One or two places were located at the falls, stumps and logs torn up for the sake of the grubs the bear so loves.

Porcupines Liked

No matter what local people may think of them, porcupines were liked by the visitors. Two of them, lumbering along the shore sand, caused almost as much excitement as did the deer and started up several lively discussions as to the merits of the prickly animals.

Friendliness is one of the attractions of the boat trip. On Friday, the group belonged largely to the professions, doctors, lawyers, and newspaper people predominating. Before the Toonerville Trolly had left Soo Junction the getting acquainted had begun and before the trip was ended everybody had spoken to everybody and many long and interesting discussions had been enjoyed.

The conversation was largely concerned with conservation and with the coming election but out-of-door subjects held a large share of the attention. This latter was due, no doubt, to the fact that Ben East, out-door editor for the Grand Rapids Press, and Mrs. Each were on board. Wherever this pair happened to pause they were at once the center of a group, listening and questioning. They are spending a few days at the McNearney farm from where they expect to make a series of flash-light pictures of animals. The doe and her spike-horn twins at the falls are scheduled to be the subject of some of the pictures. This trio is the special interest of Joe Beach who has been taming them since they were first sighted. They haunt the trail from the landing to the falls, and come cautiously into sight when they are called.

Mr. East had with him a handsome specimen of the Fox snake which he had picked up on his way north. This reptile makes friends with several of the visitors, a physician being especially interested. This man placed the creature about his neck where it cuddled up for the warmth and tucked its head deep under the coat in perfect contentment.

As no one was in a hurry to end the trip Joe loitered along making a turn about the island, and stopping at the conservation headquarters to let the Easts and their equipment off. Among the other passengers were Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Armstrong of Chicago, and Mr. and Mrs. Allison Armstrong of Midland. Stanley Armstrong is city hal editor for the Chicago Tribune and his brother is a chemist for the Dow Chemical company. This was the first trip for most of the visitors with the exception of the Easts. Ben East writes as much or more excellent information concerning conservation and its problems as any other newspaper man in the state and has always shown great interest in the Tahquamenon district.

GOODS RECOVERED

Sheriff Wm. McCauley and Trooper Ralph Sheheen of the state police have solved the robbery of the Cowell and Burns store in St. Ignace, have captured the robbers and recovered most of the loot. Given a tip that three young men, whose names have not ben learned here, were staying at Brevort lake, the officers arested them after finding clothing and other articles taken from the store. Goods valued at several hundred dolars was taken.

CAR WRECKED, MEN HELD

Two cars side-swiped each other near the railroad crossing east of Seney at an early hour on Friday morning, damaging the cars to the extent of about $100 each. The men, who were not injured, were taken in charge by state police when it was found that they had no operators licenses. Lloyd Campbell of Munising was arraigned before Justice Kinzie on Friday afternoon and paid a fine of $3.50 and costs of $3.60 after pleading guilty. Jack Perling of Grand Marais will come in for arraignment.

ON SPECIAL DETAIL

Two state troopers from the Newberry detachment have been stationed at other points in order to spread the service of the local men over a greater territory. Stanley Carlson will remain at the Sault, being sent down there some weeks ago. Ralph Sheheen will remain at St. Ignace, being sent down from Newbery on July 21. Lieut. Fred Keune stated that the men could be kept as cheaply in the other points as at Newberry and that they would continue to operate under the orders from the Newberry headquaters.

NEWBERRY BRIEFS

Hollie Bennett of Epoufette was brought to the Newberry general hospital on Thursday night and underwent a serious operation on Friday. He is doing well.

Among the Munising business men who visited Newberry on Friday were Charles Everetts, Walter Corey, Wesley Ward and Tony Levott.

Miss Ruth Anderson is entertaining three of her friends for a few days, Miss Anita McDonald from East Jordan, and the Misses Pearl and Winifred Young from Ypsilanti. They made the Tahquamenon river trip on Saturday.

Grand Knight McNamara urges every member of the council who can possibly attend this meeting to do so. An intensive program of activities for the coming season is being planned and the co-operation of the entire membership is desired to make it a success.

Baby Clinic To Be Held At Whitedale, Calspar This Week

Two more baby clinics for infants and pre-school children will be held this week under the direction of Miss Emma Johnson, county nurse. The first one will take place on Wednesday afternoon, July 27, at the Calspar school, and the other clinic will be held Thursday afternoon, July 28, at the Whitedale school. Hours will be from 1 to 4 p. m.

Manistique physicians will be in charge of the examinations and everybody residing in these vicinities are urged to attend. All of the baby clinics held in the county this year have been very successful.

Lutheran Minister Dies Suddenly At Blazed Trail Club

Rev. George Bohon Schmidt, 59, of Newark, Ohio, passed away Thursday evening at eight o'clock at the Blazed Trail club where he had been spending the past three weeks. Death was due to heart trouble.

The deceased was born in Louisville, Kentucky, and was a clergyman in the Lutheran denomination. He had been in failing health for the past six months.

The body was prepared for burial by Gunnarson & Kefauver, local morticians, the remains being shipped to Newark Friday evening where funeral services will be held.

Many Hitch-Hikers Travel on Highways

Hitch-hikers these days are having plenty of troubles in thumbing their way about the country. Due to sub-normal conditions more persons are taking this method of travel than ever before. The average motorist, however, is becoming educated to the fact that the majority of hitch-hikers prove to be very uninteresting and frequently burdensome; that some are unworthy and are far from being fit companions. Then too, there is always the danger of being hi-jacked.

Despite the dangers and inconveniences of giving the hitch-hiker a lift, many of the latter seem to be exceptionally successful in getting around the country free from transportation expense. Perhaps it is because many motorists have tender consciences and fear to pass by a hiker whose appearance forecasts him as being down and out.

All sorts of people in various walks of life have come through Manistique this summer via this route. College boys, women, young men on pleasure trips, and even a candidate for governor, are included in the group. A typical true example of the gratitude of a pair of hitch-hikers is as follows:

Mr. Motorist sees a middle aged couple walking along the highway on the outskirts of Escanaba. Feeling sorry for them he picks them up. During the course of some dull conversation in which both of them sob the blues, he learns that the woman is soon to become a mother. He finds that if his fortune, or rather misfortune, to have his passengers with him all the way to his destination, which happens to be Manistique, and resigns himself to a monotonous hour and a half jaunt in which he feels he would much prefer his own solitary company.

Becoming sympathetic and compassionate, he takes the couple to his home and asks the man if he would like to earn a dollar by cutting his lawn. The man accepts and Mr. Motorist allows the woman to rest on his porch while her hubby does the job.

Suddenly remembering that Mr. Hitch-hiker might try to run away with his lawn mower, Mr. Motorist returns to find out how the work is progressing. The mower is still there and Mr. and Mrs. Hitch-hiker have already departed. The lawn is mowed, but ridges of uncut grass are everywhere to be seen. He has to employ another man to re-mow the lawn.

A pair of youths, only 18 years of age, passed through the city last week on their way from Mt. Vernon, Ohio, to the Olympic games. They had had money enough to purchase their tickets for the games in advance, but were depending upon kind hearted citizens to feed them enroute.

Two other youths, carrying large packs on their backs, walked wearily through here two weeks ago on a "pleasure" jaunt from Chicago around Lake Michigan. They had been fairly successful in "thumbing," it taking them only two days to arrive here from Chicago.

One evening several weeks ago a young woman hitch-hiker was waiting on S-2 east of the city near the intersection of the Thompson road. No one knows how long she was standing there before this particular motorist passed by. Returning a half hour or so later, she was seen standing near the same spot, thus far unsuccessful in her quest.

Perhaps motorists were suspicious, believing that she had a male companion or two in the immediate vicinity ready to hi-jack them. This may be a trifle far-fetched, but it has been known to happen before.

Deserving hitch-hikers must suffer with the rest. Perhaps before long hitch-hikers' bureaus may be established in which badges would be issued to the worthy for the convenience of motorists.

Board Of Health Urges Cleaning Of Garbage Cans

Owing to numerous complaints in regard to the unsanitary condition of garbage cans, the Manistique board of health warns local citizens that the free collection service now being provided by the city will be discontinued to those who do not keep their garbage cans clean and sanitary. The board of health advises everybody to scald their cans at least once a week.

Dirty garbage cans provide breeding places for flies, maggots and other vermin, and defeats the purpose for which free garbage colection is being made available.

Monday—
Nortons vs. Cleaners, Westside.
Lauermans vs. Sinclair Oils, eastside.

Tuesday—
Fords vs. Central Markets, eastside.
Schusters vs. Inland Lime and Stone, eastside.

Wednesday—
Nortons vs. Sinclair Oils, eastside.

Thursday—
Fords vs. Inlands, westside.
Schusters vs. Cleaners, eastside.

Bill Norton's Sinclair Oils put a crimp into the Ford's winning streak last week and jumped into a tie for first place, sharing honors with the latter team. Pounding Nels Halsey from the slab, the pennant hungry Oils defeated the league leaders decisively and incidentally hung up their tenth straight win of the season.

In the meantime the Central Markets kept pace with the leaders by capturing both of their games and remain one game from first place. The Oils and Markets were the only teams to come through with a perfect percentage during the week, all other teams splitting even or dropping both games.

The Schuster Grocers again failed to snap out of their slump, both the Oils and Markets handing them defeats. The Grocers gave the Markets a real fight when they scored three times in the first half of the seventh to tie the score, but the Markets came back in their half of the inning to shove over the winning counter.

The Lauerman team was the victim of some bad judgment when they dropped a game by the forfeit route to the Inlands. After the Inlands had declared that they would finish the contest under protest, the Lauermans team walked off the field, automatically forfeiting the game. It was the third win of the season for the Inlands who lately have been giving most of the teams a hard fight.

The headliner of the week will be played on the eastside Tuesday evening when the Central Markets tackle the Fords. A defeat for the Fords will knock them off the top and put the Markets up in the running. The Sinclair Oils will attempt to stretch their string of victories to an even dozen this week when they tackle the Norton Specials and Lauerman Specials.

Diamond ball games are drawing record crowds. Thursday night the Ford-Sinclair game attracted a crowd of 500 persons to the eastside grounds.

Raised Prices On Blueberries A d d To Vim Of Pickers

More incentive was provided for blueberry pickers yesterday when the local market price to pickers increased from 75 cents per crate to $1.10 per crate as the season neared its close. The price paid pickers previous to the increse was the lowest in history.

Members of the Manistique recor commission report that many of the indigent have not picked huckleberries because of the low price. Those who do not pick berries will be given little or no consideration this winter, according to a statement issued by the commission, which urges that the poor pick berries for themselves and not particularly for the market.

Hot Coals Start Fire At E. Smith Cottage At Lake

Hot coals of ashes placed in a basket on the porch of the Ernie Smith cottage at Indian lake caused a small fire Friday evening with little damage resulting. The smoke was noticed by neighbors who extinguished the fire before the arrival of the department.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith, leaving the cottage an hour or so before the fire was discovered, had placed the basket of ashes on the poch, not wishing to put them in the yard where they were likely to start a fire in the dry grass. Fanned by a slight breeze the coals burned through the basket onto the porch.

Yankees Take 6-1 Contest from A's

The Crawford & Holland Athletics suffered their second loss of the season Frfiday afternoon when Frenchy's Yankees upset the dope bucket and decisively trimmed the league leaders, 6-1. John Larion, hurling for the winners, held the A's to seven scattered blows and pitched shut-out ball until the seventh inning.

Middaugh was knocked out of the box in the sixth frame when the Yanks collected the last pair of their six tallies, Dyer relieving him. An ever dozen hits were collected by the Yankees, Mersnic getting three, and Barr and H. Larion obtaining two each. Matthews and Martell each hit safely twice for the A's.

STOCK MARKET

New York, July 23 (AP)—Profit-taking made little impression on the stock market today. There was some selling in the first hour, but losses were generally recovered and the list closed with a steady tone.

Traders who have been allowing themselves a dram or two of optimism on the strength of recent developments which have appeared favorable commented on the market's resistance, although it was pointed out that a Saturday session, especially at mid-summer, could hardly provide conclusive evidence. But with car loadings more than regaining what they had lost in the Fourth of July week and steel operations displaying further firmness speculators for the rise thought they had a fairly good case.

Rails Very Quiet

Some leaders dipped about a point after the opening, however, losses of that amount in American Telephone, Westinghouse, Union Pacific, U. S. Steel preferred and half a dozen others were, on the whole, regained. Professionals gave the alcohol stocks a flip toward the close, pushing U. S. Industrial Alcohol, American Commercial and National Distillers moderately higher. Oils were active, making fractional progress. Youngstown Sheet & Tube, U. S. Steel common and Bethlehem also finished with something to the good. Rails were very quiet, suggesting that most of the nourishment had been extracted from the consolidation news. Sales totaled 365,800 shares.

Youngstown district steel mills begin next week at 20 percent of capacity, a rise of 3 percent from this week's average. Some plants, it was reported, would operate considerably above the mean level. The pickup from Independence Day shutdowns has been satisfactory—perhaps a little beyond expectations—but as yet there is no disposition to look for a marked upturn before autumn.

CHICAGO GRAIN

Chicago, July 23—Corn prices tended upward today, and bolstered other grains.

Reports from Illinois, Missouri, Kansas and Nebraska showed 1932 corn crop deterioration exceeded the average of the last ten years. Prospects were for a return of higher temperatures over the corn belt, and only scattered showers were reported.

After advancing almost a cent a bushel, corn closed unsettled at the same as yesterday's finish to 5-8 higher, wheat 1-8 off to 1-8 up, oats unchanged to 1-8 lower, and provisions varying from 2 cents decline to a rise of 15 cents.

Despite corn strength, oats established a new low price record unequalled since 1896.

Provisions were unsettled, lard easier, meats firmer.

Closing indemnities: Wheat—July, 46 7-8, offers; September, 47 7-8 to 48, 49 to 49 1-8; December, 51 to 51 1-8, 52 1-8 to ¼. Corn—September, 32¼ to 3-8, 33½; December, 32 5-8, 33 3-4.

WALL STREET BRIEFS

New York, July 23 (AP)—Kroger Grocery Co. for the seventh four-week period of its fiscal year, ending July 16, had sales volume of $16,203,842, a decrease of 14 percent from a year ago. Sales for the first seven periods of 1932 show exactly the same percentage decline.

A seat on the New York Curb Exchange today was sold for $18,000, up $1,500 from the last transaction.

June net railway operating income of the Reading Co. increased sharply over a year ago, totaling $691,987 against $160,108. Gross was $3,554,749 compared with $5,571,120.

Freeport Texas Co. had net income of $1,060,743 in the first half year compared with $1,185,092 in the same 1931 period.

Bee Causes Mishap

Menominee—Mary Roehl, 518 Spies avenue, suffered cuts on the nose, head and leg at 3:30 p. m. yesterday when Elaine Duquaine, 701 Michigan avenue, lost control of her automobile while swatting at a bee.

The car, going north on North State street, crashed into an electric transmission line pole near the Menominee Oil company's gasoline station north of Lloyd avenue. The pole was snapped off by the impact and the car damaged.

New York, July 23 (AP)—Profit-taking by traders who wished to spend a care-free week-end today slowed down the upturn in the bond market, but the averages, at the close, retained a small net gain.

A large part of the day's activity was concentrated on the United States government list and in German securities. Elsewhere transactions were confined to small blocks of bonds. Sales totaled $5,713,000, par value.

While most of the treasury issues held substantial net gains, the Liberties eased off slightly. German 5½s advanced 1 1-8 points, but the 7s were moderately lower. Loans of the German Agricultural Bank and Berlin municipals advanced from 1 to 3 points.

There were a number of small gains in the transportation section, but at the same time several issues recently in demand gave ground moderately. Both Santa Fe general 4s and convertible 4½s were up as much as a point. Fair gains were also recorded by bonds of Central of New Jersey, Baltimore & Ohio, St. Paul, Erie, Great Northern, New Haven and Northern Pacific.

Kirkwood Gives Golf Exhibition Here Today

18-HOLE MATCH ALSO FEATURES

Trick Shot Artist to Play With Revolta, Glavin And Boyce

The greatest showman in the golf world, Joe Kirkwood of Chicago will give an exhibition of his famous trick shots and will compete in an 18-round match with three of the leading upper peninsula golfers at the Escanaba Country Club's course this afternoon. The program will begin at 2 p. m. and is open to the public.

Other contestants in the match will be: John Revolta, professional of the Riverside Country club who has been middle west golf sensation this season; Clarke Glavin, U. P. invitational tournament champion and Don Boyce, upper peninsula amateur title holder.

Revolta has broken the course record at the Riverside club in Menominee four times this season. He lowered the record for the third time last Wednesday with a 65, and on Thursday made the 18 holes in 64, which is 10 under par.

In addition to the 18-hole exhibition, there will be a demonstration of many of Kirkwood's freak or trick shots for which he has become internationally famous. Also a half hour lecture on golf in general, during which the great wizard of the fairways, will discuss and demonstrate many different strokes, giving an instructive analysis on the simplicity of the game.

Admitted by all to be the greatest "one-man" show that has ever been seen on the links, there is an element of entertainment which Kirkwood carries with him in the personage of "Snowflakes," his dusky caddy, who was one of the features of the exhibiton, places a tee between his teeth and permits Kirkwood to drive a ball, taking his full and powerful stroke off the tee held in this manner.

Kirkwood's "bag of tricks" is overflowing for he is persistent in developing new shots and seldom does he ever find it necessary to repeat unless requested to do so, any of the startling and uncanny stunts that he makes the little white ball do to the amazement of his gallery.

Jacksonville Youth Captures Golf Title

Shawnee Golf Course, Louisville, Ky., July 23 (AP)—R. L. Miller, freckle-faced and slender, emerged the winner today from the greatest field that ever competed in a national public links golf tournament.

The steady but at no time spectacular golf that enabled him to qualify in 149, within four strokes of Joe Nichols, Long Beach, Calif., medalist, was maintained by Miller throughout the week's long grind for a 4 and 2 victory in the finals over Pete Miller of Chicago. He was the second Jacksonville, Fla., player to win, for Bob Wingate took the title in 1930.

Bark River Playing At Schaffer Sunday

The Bark River baseball team will go to Schaffer today for its first game off its home diamond in an effort to avenge its earlier season defeat by the Schaffer nine.

Trudell and Dupey will be the batteries for Schaffer, while Erickson, Johnson and Lessard and Erickson will do the heavy work for Schaffer.

The game will start at 2:30 o'clock (E. S. T.).

PUTS BUCS IN LEAD

Giving the huriers plenty of tips on how to cut corners, George Gibson, former great Pittsburgh receiver, has the fast flying Pirates at the top of the National league. Gibson became the Bucs' pilot this season. He put in a brief spell managing the club a decade ago. (Associated Press Photo)

These Track Aces Will Seek Olympic Laurels For United States

Ralph Metcalfe, Marquette flier, is the U. S. hope for a double sprint victory in the Olympics. He has equalled the Olympic mark for 100-meters and surpassed the 200-meters record.

This group of ace performers of the American team is now gathered at Olympic village for the games, July 30 to August 14. Bill Graber, Southern California star, recently soared to a new pole vault record of 14 feet 4 3-8 inches during the Palo Alto trials. Other photos show stars who are the country's No. 1 men in their events: Hallowell, 1,500 meters; Genung, 800-meters; Keller, 110-meter hurdles, and Sexton, shot put. (Associated Press Photo)

Bill Carr, little Penn star, is the American favorite to capture the 400-meters. In the trials, Carr for the second time defeated Ben Eastman, Stanford's great runner.

CHICAGO CUBS LOSE TO BUCS

Pirates Increase Lead In League by 11-8 Victory

Pittsburgh, July 23 (AP)—Pittsburgh's battling Pirates took one of the season's stormiest ball games from the Chicago Cubs today, 11 to 8, to increase their first place lead to four and one half games.

Bickerings between rival players and between players and umpires dragged the wild struggle through two hours and 28 minutes.

The Cubs used five pitchers in a desperate effort to silence the Pirates bats; Pittsburgh called upon four moundsmen to clinch the victory. The Bucs put the game on the victory side when they scored five runs in the seventh.

TIGERS, BROWNS EACH WIN ONE

St. Louis Cops First by 5-1, Detroit Captures Second, 9 to 4

St. Louis, July 23 (AP)—With home runs accounting for twelve of the counters, St. Louis and Detroit divided a double header here today, the Browns winning the first game, 5 to 1, and the Tigers the aftermah, 9 to 4.

The initial contest was decided on Jack Burns' homer with the bases filled to break a 1 to 1 tie. The heavy-hitting St. Louis first baseman ran his string of games in which he hit safely to twenty in this game, but was stopped in the second in which he was walked twice.

U. S. DOUBLES NETTERS WIN

Americans Need One Victory in Singles At Paris

BY FRANK H. KING
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

Paris, France, July 23 (AP)—Needing but a single victory in two singles matches tomorrow, the United States was accepted tonight as the challenger of France for the historic Davis cup in the big Roland Garros stadium here next week-end.

A brilliant young pair of Americans, Wilmer Allison and John Van Ryn, brought the prediction within a step of certainty today by overwhelming the German doubles team of Daniel Prenn and Gottfried Von Cramm 6-3, 6-4, 6-1 to give the United States a lead of two matches to one in the American and European inter-zone final.

LaCoste Is Ill

And as the Americans reached within a step of the challenger's place, developments within the ranks of the Davis cup defender, France, added to the possibility that the young squad from overseas might sweep on through the inter-zone final to capture the cup itself, and end the five year reign of the tri-color.

On top of the superb tennis of Allison and Van Ryn it developed today that Rene LaCoste, returning to Davis cup tennis after a long absence due to illness, was suffering from tonsilitis and would probably be unable to play next week-end.

Despite his objections, Jean Borotra, who insists that he is too old for such things, will be drafted for one of the singles roles while the great Henri Cochet will carry the other, leaving Borotra to team with his old partner, Jacques Brugnon, in the doubles.

PLUCKY PLAY NIPS EQUIPOISE

1932 Handicap Champion Beaten After Seven Straight Wins

BY CHARLES DUNKLEY
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Arlington Park Race Track, Chicago, July 23 (AP)—They finally conquered Equipoise, 1932 handicap champion of the American turf today.

In a thrilling, heart-breaking finish as any race crowd ever witnessed, Plucky Play, the surprise horse of the turf, broke the winning streak of Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney's great 4-year-old, defeating him by a neck in the Arlington handicap, a race that was worth $27,500.

Plucky Play ran the mile and a quarter, leading from start to finish, in 2:02 1-5. Pittsburgher was third, Tred Ovon fourth, White Clover II fifth, and Stepenfetchit last.

Appeared Invincible

Gusto, winner of the $50,000 American derby and $88,000 Arlington classic a week ago, did not start. Dr. Freeland and Risque also were scratched.

Previous to today's defeat, Equipoise had raced to victory in seven straight state events, earning $68,825 this season, and appeared to be invincible.

But packing that back-breaking impost of 134 pounds his own tractiousness in delaying the start at the barrier brought Equipoise's defeat. When the field of six reached the starting gate Equipoise refused to go into his stall, and plunged and reared for eight and one half minutes.

As those minutes clicked off, the 134 pounds on Equipoise's back grew heavier, and in the thrilling duel with Plucky Play down the stretch, the load grew to a ton.

Plucky Play closing at 10 to 1 in the mutuel betting, paid $26.04 to win, $9.48 to place and $5.22 to show. Equipoise paid the surprising price of $3.18 to place and $2.78 to show. The show price on Pittsburgher was $4.42.

Today's victory was Plucky Play's first this year and he was greatly favored by the weights, carrying only 11 pounds.

West Enders Will Play Perkins At Fairgrounds Today

The West Enders will play Perkins at the state fairgrounds today at 2:30 o'clock. One of the season's hottest games is expected by the teams.

The West Enders have strengthened their lineup and will present this team on the field: Bovin, catcher; Murphy, first base; Kircher, second base; Sullivan, third base; Gregory, shortstop; Bink, Herro and McGovern will play the outfield. Burns or Oseen will work on the mound for the West End. Buddy Gibbs is expected to twirl for Perkins.

Ford River Will Play Fox Today

Ford River will paly Fox at Ford River diamond today starting at 2:30 o'clock. Radsmacher or Flath will pitch for Ford River with Logerquist catching.

Frank Shields, who lost to Von Cramm yesterday, faces Prenn tomorrow, with Ellsworth Vines, conqueror of Prenn in the first singles, meeting of Von Cramm.

SHOOTIN' TODAY AT PINE RIDGE

Escanaba, Gladstone and Marquette Entered in Rifle Match

At least three cities will be represented by teams today in the service rifle shoot to be held at the Pine Ridge rifle range near Escanaba under the auspices of the Escanaba Rifle club. The event will start at 8 a. m.

Headed by Miller, captain of the Michigan state rifle team, Marquette is sending down a group of real sharpshooters for the matches today. Escanaba has a picked crew of riflemen ready to give them some competition, and Gladstone is coming over with a team headed by Chief of Police Torval Kallerson, and Howard Willis, Elmer Van de Berge, H. C. Moorhouse, Lawrence Bunno and Charles Riley. There is a possibility also that Menominee may enter a team.

The matches today will include competition in 200 and 600 yard slow fire and 200 and 300 yard rapid fire.

Sande Gives Riding Lesson To Mills

New York, July 23 (AP)—Earl Sande, the old master of the saddle, gave Hank Mills, the youngster, a riding lesson today as he brought James Butler's Apprentice home in front of the Wheatley stable's Dark Secret to repeat his Empire City derby triumph with a clean cut victory in the Knickerbocker handicap at Empire City.

Many of the crowd thought Sande lucky to win the derby with Apprentice. As the result of their belief the Mills-Dark Secret combination was the favorite at 4 to 5 with Apprentice, coupled with Star Fire, closing at 11 to 5.

There was no luck, however, in Sande's victory today. He sent the Butler three-year-old over the mile and one-sixteenth in 1:46 1-5, fast time for the slow track, to defeat Dark Secret by one-half a length. Another length to the rear in third position trailed J. J. Robinson's Renaissance.

MORE CARS GET LICENSES AUG. 1

Cut in Fees to Benefit About 600 Motorists In Delta County

It is estimated that between 400 and 450 more automobile license plates will be sold this season by the department of state branch office in Escanaba as a result of the recent action of Frank D. Fitzgerald, secretary of state, in cutting license fees in half, effective Aug. 1.

In Escanaba, the number of licenses issued for 1932 was about 600 behind last year at the last tally, and it is believed that a major part of this reduction was due to the fact that owners lacked funds to buy the plates. With the fee cut in two, it is conceded that about 75 percent of these motorists, most of them owners of light cars, will be in to get licenses so that they may drive their automobiles for the remaining five months of the year, and possibly a month or so in 1933 if the time extension of the last two years is again in effect.

The secretary of state estimates that there are 107,000 automobiles laid up in the state because the owners are short of funds.

The statutory time for reducing the automobile license fee is Sept. 1. By advancing the date to Aug. 1, Mr. Fitzgerald is not intending to establish a precedent, but has taken the step merely as an emergency measure.

Hatchery Overseers Given Added Duties

Lansing.—Inauguration of a new system through which overseers of the various state fish hatcheries will have supervision over all fisheries activities in definite districts of the state was announced today by Fred A. Westerman, in charge of the Fish Division of the Department of Conservation.

Plans for the organization were discussed at a meeting of all overseers held last week and hatchery men are now making preparations to put these plans into immediate effect.

"Concentration of all fisheries activities in definite sections of the state into the hands of one man is a step that has resulted from a gradual evolution of fish propagation and planting work in Michigan," Mr. Westerman said. "It is the final break from the old 'fry' system and haphazard planting of fish."

Collects Stream Data

Hatchery overseers will collect and file data regarding all lakes and streams in the areas under their jurisdiction, especially with reference to the fish population, the species of fish, temperature conditions and food conditions. All applications for fish made by individuals and organizations in his district will be turned over to the overseer of that district for recommendation.

As much as practicable, all fish will now be planted by a Conservation Department employee or under the supervision of an employee.

Since the inauguration of the trout fingerling program, practically all fish planted in Michigan's streams have been placed there by state employees and only after an investigation has been made of the stream's capacity to carry trout and of the species of trout best adapted to that particular stream. Under this policy the planting of species unsuited to a stream or the introduction of rainbow or brown trout into a stream system which can be maintained solely as a brook trout stream can be avoided. As a result, good brook trout waters are preserved with generally added efficiency to the state's fish cultural effects.

Gives O. K. First

A similar policy will not be carried on in planting fish in the lakes, Mr. Westerman said. Many persons still labor under the impression that more fish planted will provide better fishing and the introduction of a new species will add to the fishing in the lake, whereas under certain conditions the opposite would be true.

While persons interested in certain lakes may continue to apply for state propagated fish, as in the past, such applications will not be filled unless they have the favorable report of the hatchery overseer, who will then, if possible, supervise the actual planting.

Must be Public Waters

Through the application system many lakes may have been overstocked while other lakes in which no one was particularly interested received no fish. Through a detailed study of environmental conditions in lakes that do not now contain fish, it will be possible to make some of these waters productive. No fish will be planted or furnished for planting in those waters in which the public is not permitted to fish.

"Our policy is to plant fish in all waters open to public fishing that require planting," Mr. Westerman pointed out, "whether anyone has applied for fish for these waters or not."

Hatchery overseers under the new organization system will not only supervise fish planting in their districts, but will have available all possible data on lake and stream conditions; will assist and encourage the improvement of lakes and streams and will have general supervisory duties over all fish propagation work for the definite areas as well as recommending changes in regulations governing fishing in the various waters.

Youths Home from Interlochen; Sang In All-State Chorus

Richard "Dick" Carlton and Edward Lucas, Jr., talented vocalists, have returned to their homes here from the National Music Camp at Interlochen, Mich., where during the past week they sang as members of the all-state chorus.

Richard was honored by being selected as one of six who were offered scholarships for the remainder of the summer.

Both are Escanaba high school students, Richard being a junior and Edward a senior, and both are members of the high school chorus.

Richard is the son of Dr. and Mrs. A. J. Carlton, 502 South Seventh street, and Edward is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lucas, 202 North 18th street.

Strange Insect Injuring Trees

Considerable damage is being done to trees, principally the balm of gilead, by a small insect, which resembles a white grub, according to Carl Sawyer of the Sawyer-Stoll company.

Mr. Sawyer is sending a specimen to the entomology department of the state department of conservation to determine what can be done to prevent its depredations. The insect eats its way deep into the wood, causing the death of the tree.

Many of the trees in this vicinity are infested, Mr. Sawyer reports.

BARK RIVER

Copr. 1932 by Shell Petroleum Corporation

ENGINE-WASTE costs American motorists millions of dollars a year.

Engine-Waste results when inferior gasoline fails to deliver the satisfactory performance you pay for. It is very costly indeed.

The high signs of Engine-Waste are familiar to every man who drives a car: Knocks, slow pick-up, dilution of oil, slow starting, gummy valves.

All these troubles mean wasted gasoline—Engine-Waste. All of them cut down mileage, boost gasoline costs.

To cut down Engine-Waste to a minimum in your car, use the fuel that is specially produced for this very purpose—Shell Gasoline. Here at last is a perfectly balanced motor fuel. It is made possible only by a remarkable process—by many years of continuous improvement in refining and blending.

Every lot of Shell is engine-tested at the refinery. Every lot must prove to us first what it will do for you.

If freedom from trouble, if satisfactory performance and maximum mileage mean anything to you—fill your tank today with Shell. It reduces Engine-Waste and saves you money.
